GENEALOGY.

WHITTEMORE.

The common American ancestor of the WHITTEMORE family was THOMAS WHITTEMORE, who came to this country, between 1639 and 1645, probably in 1641–2, and settled in that part of Charlestown, Mass., which is now embraced within the limits of the town of Everett, Mass. He came from Hitchin, county of Hertford, England. The genealogy of the Whittemore family in Hitchin, from 1562 to 1650, is given in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, vol. 21, pp. 169–172. It was procured and published by EBENEZER STOWELL WHITTEMORE, ESQ., of Sandwich, Mass., and is a verbatim copy from the Parish Register of Hitchin, copied by L. Hensley, the Incumbent of that Parish. THOMAS WHITTEMORE, Senior, the father of the American ancestor, Thomas, lived in Hitchin, and was married in 1566.* He had two brothers, William and Rowland. William was born about 1540, and had a son, Thomas, who was married in 1591. Rowland died in 1613. Thomas Whittemore, Senior, died in Hitchin, in 1617, as appears by the record of the Parish, which is in the following words: "1617, Aprill. The 28 daie were married Rychard Sheffield and Elizabeth Whit*a*more.—June. The 13 daye was buried Abraham Whit*e*more, the husband of Grace Whit*e*more. November—The 26 daye was buried Thomas Whit*e*more, Senior, widower, who by his will dated the 5th day of May, 1613, gave £20 to Trustees for the best sort of the poor people in Hitchin."

*Letter of Thomas J. Whittemore, dated March 23, 1857. Mr. Whittemore collected a large amount of genealogical material in relation to the family, but never published it.—He died in 1872.

In a communication to the N. E. Genealogical Register, in October, 1878, the gentleman above alluded to, Mr. E. S. Whittemore, says: "Earlier than the year 1300 we find the first recorded name, i. e., John, Lord of Whytemere, having his domicile at Whytemere, on the north-east side of the parish of Bobbington, in the manor of Claverly, in Shropshire. At the present time, the same locality bears the name of Whittemore. * * * It is recorded by two historians, that Whittemore Hall, at Whittemore, was the place of origin of the Whittemore family. The Anglo-Saxon etymology of the word Whytemere is white meadow, or lake, and the first John, Lord of Whytemere, derived the name of the family from the place where they originally resided.—About the year 1483, the "De" (of) was dropped, leaving it Whytemere, as the surname; and not far from 1495, the y was changed for i, and e after t omitted, leaving the name Whitmore; while the name Whittemore is obtained by adding a second t and retaining the e, and next to the last e in each name changed to o. * * * The present name of Whittemore has been spelled five or more different ways during the past three hundred and fifty years, and the name of Whitmore differently." The same gentleman, in a communication to the Boston Advertiser, in January last, said: "At the present day, there is in the parish of Bobbington, in the manor of Claverly, county of Salop, (Eng.,) a place spelled Whit-i-more, which is a modern looking farm house, which has, also, been spelled Whittemore, and for centuries spelled with a trisyllable. This locality is in the county of Salop, but the greater part of the parish is in Staffordshire. This family of Whittemore have held in fee this place since the signing of the Great Charter at Runnymede, by King John in 1215; and in early times, the proprietors were called the "Lords of Whytemere."

That the Thomas Whittemore, who settled in Charlestown, is the American ancestor of the family is beyond doubt. There were a Lawrence Whittemore and wife, who came to Roxbury, Mass., in 1635, but they never had any children and at their death that branch ended*. There was, also, a Bainell Whitt*a*more, who is mentioned in the Charlestown records, as follows:—"The 9th of the Xth month, 1661, Bainell Whittamore being with the selectmen is willing to accept of allowance in the common." No further mention is made of him.

THE FAMILY AT HITCHIN, ENGLAND.

He came from England in the year 1641-2, and settled in that part of Charlestown, subsequently Malden, which is now embraced within the limits of Everett, Mass.]

*They came from Stanstead Abbey, co. Herts, England. He was 63 when he came over and his wife 57. She d. in 1642; he d. Nov. 18th, 1644. Having no children, "he gave all his estate to the free schools; all generations, followers of the Redeemer, bless his name therefor." His name appears in the early records of Roxbury, spelled Lawrence Wittamore.

1617—Aprill. The 28 daie were married Rychard Shedfield and Elizabeth Whitamore. June. The 13 daie was buried Abraham Whitemore, the husband of Grace Whitemore.—November. The 26 daie was buried Thomas Whitemore, Sen'r., widower, (who was the father of our first American ancestor, and "who by his will dated the 5th day of May 1613, gave £20 to Trustees for the best sort of poor people in Hitchin." From the Record of the Hitchin charities.)

1618—Julie. The 8 daye was married John Huddleston, and Grace Whitamore, widowe.

[NOTE.—"I do not see evidence whether this John Huddleston is the same with the Vicar of Hitchin at the time, whose name is signed at the foot of the page, and remained Vicar till 1620, dying February, 1620-1. And his wife died August, 1615." L. Hensley.]

1618-19—Februarie. The 25 day was baptized Grace, the daughter of John Huddleston, clerk.

1621—Februarie. The 28 day. The same was baptized Peter, the sonne of Nicholas Whitamore.

1622—Aprill. The first day was buried Grace, the daughter of Mr. Huddleston.

1623—Aprill. The 14 day were married Thomas Whittamore and Sarah Deardes.—[This was the second marriage of our first American ancestor.]

1624—Maye. The 5 day was baptized Thomas, the sonne of Nicholas Whittamor.—Maye. The 12 day was baptized Mary, the daughter of Thomas Whittamor.

1626—Maye. The 10 day was buried the daughter of Nicholas Whittamor. October.—The 6 day was baptized Thomas, be the sonne of Thom. Whittamor.

1633—June. The 12 day baptized Daniel, be, the sonne of Samuel Whittamor.—Julie. The 31 day baptized Daniel, be, sonne of Thomas Whittamor. [It will be seen that the last named Thomas has children by a third wife, whose name was Hannah. This Daniel was her first child. She had born to her Daniel; John, baptized April 27, 1635, buried April 29, 1635; Nathaniel baptized May 1, 1636; John again baptized February 11, 1638. These children were born in England. Then coming to America they had Elizabeth, Benjamin, Thomas, Samuel, Pelatiah, and Abraham. By his first wife he had one child, which died, and by his second wife he had two children, one of whom died in infancy, but Thomas lived to mature years, but never came to America. Thus we see two sons in the same family living at the same time by the name of Thomas.]

1634—Julie. The 2 day baptized Mary, the daughter of Nicholas Whittamor.—October. The 29 day baptized Alice, be, the daughter of Nathaniel Whittamor.

1646—March. The 26 day married Onesker Jackson and Mary Whittemore.

1647—October. The 26 day baptized Sarey, the daughter of Nathaniel and Joan Whittemore.

1650—Julie. The 2 daye buried Nicholas Whittemore, the sonne of Roger Whittemore.

[The Register was examined up to 1653; no more names. In a list of rates in the year 1670 occurs the name of Nathaniel Whittemore.

Thomas Whitemore, Senior, the father of our first American ancestor, had brothers William, born in 1540, and Howland, who died in 1613; and then we have Thomas, son of the foregoing William, married in 1591.]"

THOMAS I. Son of Thomas and Mary Whittemore, of Hitchin, co. of Hertford, England; m. (1) ——— ——— (2) SARAH DEARDES, April 14, 1623, who was buried Nov. 17, 1628; (3) Hannah * * * *, who was 50 years old in 1662, and m. (2) Benjamin Butterfield, June 3, 1663, at Chelmsford, Mass. Issue.—i. Sarah, bapt. April 14, 1616; ii. Mary, bapt. May 12, 1624; iii. THOMAS, bapt. Oct. 6, 1626; iv. DANIEL, bapt. July 31, 1633; v. John, bapt. April 27, bur. 29, 1635; vi. NATHANIEL, bapt. May 1, 1636; vii. JOHN, bapt. Feb. 11, 1638–9; all at Hitchin; viii. Elizabeth; ix. BENJAMIN; x. THOMAS; [xi. SAMUEL; xii.] Pelatiah, d. 1678; xiii. Abraham, in army 1675, d. Jan. 14, 1690–1, æ. 35. The father died at Malden, May 25, 1661.

Thomas Whittemore was one of the earliest settlers of Charlestown, Mass.; he located in that part, which was subsequently Malden, in the south-east part, the same being now Everett, about three miles from Boston. The parish records of Hitchin, England, show that his son John was born there Feb. 11, 1638–9, and he, probably, came to this country a year or two after that time. In 1645, he purchased of Rev. John Cotton, of Boston, "meadow for two cows' grass."—This piece of land joined his own farm. As he had a farm in 1645, he had, probably, owned it several years, and perhaps became the owner soon after his arrival in this country. He, probably, redeemed it from the wilderness. The farm was bounded east by Chelsea, and south by Mystic river. It is remarkable, that his homestead remained in the possession of the Whittemore family until May 1, 1845, when it was sold by the late William Whittemore to Nathaniel Sands, of New York city,—a period of more than two hundred years. The site of the dwelling-house erected by Thomas Whittemore, the first occupant, on the homestead is still identified in Everett. An old cellar hole is still discernible on the premises, on which was erected a house in 1806, while the homestead was owned by Joseph Whittemore, replacing that built by Thomas, and it remained there till 1866, when it was destroyed by fire. This was undoubtedly the original site of the first house erected by the first Thomas, or within a few feet of it. The site is on an elevation and commands a fine

WILL. The will of Thomas Whittemore was dated Feb. 8, 1660, and was proved and allowed June 25, 1661. It is as follows:

"First, I give and bequeath my body to the earth, and my soul to God that gave it; and for my temporal estate, I give unto Hanna my wife, the third part of the profits of all the land, that is mine; and for a legacy of her love, and care to me, I give to her two cows, and the household stuff; the land to return to them that it shall be given to; and the rest she shall dispose of to her children, whom she please.

"2. To my eldest son, Thomas, being now in England, and having his portion there by gift, I therefore cannot add thereto by will: to prevent trouble, I give him, if he come, five shillings.

"3. I give to Daniel, my son, the house and barn, with the land about and adjoining to it, except what shall be afterward expressed; and one ox called Broad, and one cow: paying such legacies as shall be expressed for him to pay; and liberty for his mother to live in the house, while she live, if she please.

"4. I give to my son Nathaniel thirty acres of upland lying at Sockemore [Sagamore?] hill; and one third part of all my meadow, both fresh and salt, with one ox called Buck and a cow, paying out of it what shall be appointed to him.

"5. I give to my son John, ten acres of land lying next to George Knowers.

"6. I give to my daughter Elizabeth twenty pound, to be paid at the day of her marriage, or else at the age of eighteen years; this to be paid at current pay.

"7. And as for my five youngest, Benjamin, Thomas, Samuel, Pelatiah and Abraham, I give unto each of them ten pounds, to be paid to them when they are at the age of one and twenty years.

"Further, the reason why (if it should be demanded) I have disposed of my estate so as I have done, the greatest part to my sons Daniel and Nathaniel, is because by their means this estate that now I have disposed of, has been preserved by them. And further, I make them my executors; and out of this their estate, they are to pay to their sister and brethren their portions—Daniel is to pay forty pounds, and Nathaniel thirty pounds; they are to pay, both of them, each proportionably, according to every one's portion when it is due to them.

DANIEL 2. Son of Thomas 1; Malden; m. MARY MELLINS, dau. of Richard Mellins, of Charlestown, March 7, 1662; d. May 11, 1683. Issue. i. DANIEL, b. April 27, 1663; ii. JOHN, Feb. 12, 1664-5; Malden; d. 1730; iii. THOMAS, March 5, 1667; iv. Mary, Feb. 15, 1668-9; v. NATHANIEL, Feb. 7, 1670; vi. PELATIAH, 1680; vii. JAMES.

Daniel, the father, devised the homestead to his two sons Daniel[3] and John,[3] the latter being the father of "John,[4] of Leicester," by a nuncupative will. The dwelling-house was devised to Daniel. This will was not proved and allowed until nearly two years after the testator's death. His widow, Mary, was appointed administratrix, Nov. 18th, 1683.

WILL. The following is a copy of the will:

Dat. 11th May, 1683, Charlestown, Middlesex.

Daniel Whitmore being sensible he was neere unto deathe, but sound in his understanding; hee desired two persons undernamed to hear what his will is: His will is That his wife shall have the thirds of all his estate during her life: and his will is that his eldest son Daniel should have his dwelling house with the land adjoining to it from Belchars line to the Roak, that is about ten pole to the norwest of the pine tree: and that to be the breadth of it with the whole length of the land, and the rest of his land his will is that his son John should have it all: and his will concerning his meadow is that his son Daniel should have three parts; and his son John should have two parts and his will is seven younger children shall have only eight pounds a piece except his eldest daughter Mary: and she should have ten pounds: and if one brother be at any time minded to sell any of this land, he shall not sell it from the other brother if he be minded to buy it.

JOHN MARBELL,
THOMAS BURDITT.

Apr. 7th, 1685.

John Marbell and Thomas Burdett appearing in Court made oath to what is above written as witnesses.

JONATHAN REMINGTON, Cleric.

DANIEL 3. Son of the foregoing Daniel 2; Charlestown; Malden; m. LYDIA BASSET, who d. April 6, 1755, æ. 84. Issue. i. DANIEL, b. Feb. 28, 1689-90; of Chelsea; ii. Lydia, Jan. 24, 1691-2; m. ---

*The first volume of the Hist. of Watertown makes him the gr. son of Benjamin and Elizabeth (Buckuam) Whittemore, but the error is corrected in the second volume.

ESTATE. The father died in 1730. His wife, Ruth, was appointed administratrix April 3, 1730. His whole estate was appraised at 503 pounds, 18 shillings, 3 pence, of which 402 pounds was real estate; homestead, 280 pounds.

JOHN 4. Son of John 3, and great grandson of Thomas 1; of Leicester; m. REBEKAH, dau. of Nathaniel Richardson, of Woburn; her mother was Abigail Reed, dau. of George Reed, of Woburn, who m. Elizabeth Jennison, of Watertown, eldest ch. of Robert Jennison, the American ancestor of the Jennison family. Her father, Nathaniel Richardson, was the son of Nathaniel, who was a son of Thomas, who came over in the fleet with Gov. Winthrop in 1630, and settled first at Charlestown, and then at Woburn, where he was one of the founders of the church. Issue. i. JOHN, b 1721; m. Elizabeth Earle, 1749, dau. of Robert, and had John, 1750; Molly, 1754; Thomas, 1755; Rebekah and Phebe, 1756; d. 1759; Ruth, 1766: ii. NATHAN, 1723; m. Lois Earle, dau. of William, 2d, 1763, and had Nathan, 1764; Lucretia, 1766; who m. her cousin Paul, son of Nathaniel; Joseph, 1768; iii. Phebe, 1727; m. Ralph Earle, then of Shrewsbury, 1749; they were parents of Ralph Earle, b. May 11, 1751, a distinguished artist and historical painter. iv. NATHANIEL, 1732; m. Sarah Rice, of Shrewsbury, 1753; v. JAMES, 1734; m. Dorothy Green, 1761. [See II.]

The father, called "John, of Leicester," by the genealogists, was born in Malden, Sept. 12, 1694, and removed to Leicester, Mass., from Rumney Marsh, (in Chelsea,) where he was then residing, in 1726. Here he bought the farm, on which he lived through the remainder of his life. The deed bears date Jan. 9, 1726, and is from William Keen to John Whittemore and Nathaniel Richardson, his wife's father, conveying 347 acres, in consideration of the payment of 320 pounds. Subsequently, his father in law, for "good and sufficient consideration," conveyed his undivided half to his son in law, by a quit-claim deed, dated Oct. 25, 1728. Here he built his first house about 1730, about sixty rods south-west from that which he afterwards built, where his grandson Joseph lived at the time of his death, in 1859. This farm he devised to his youngest son, "Lieut." James, and it continued in the possession of his descendants till 1864, a period of one hundred and thirty-eight years. It is now owned by Mr. Chas. W. Grosvenor, 17 acres only having been shorn from its original dimensions. John of Leicester, was called "Deacon" in 1735; and "Captain" in 1746, as appears by an order from Col. John Chandler, of Worcester, dated Sept. 22, 1746, addressed to "Captain Nathaniel Green, in Leicester, in his Majesty's service," when intelligence had arrived, that a French armament was on its way to attack the colonies and destroy Boston. In this order he says, "Either you or Capt. Whittemore, with two more commissioned officers, must go" [to Worcester and thence to Boston] "and don't fail."

He evidently was no believer in the English doctrine of primogeniture, as, by his will, he devised his homestead to his youngest son, Lieut. James. His oldest son John and his youngest son James were named by him as his executors, but John declined to accept the trust, as will be seen by the clause appended to the will, a copy of which is given below. The will was executed Dec. 11th. 1770, and probated Sept. 4th, 1771, between which two months, of course, he died, aged 77.

WILL. In the name of God. Amen, this eleventh day of December, in the tenth year of ye reign of our Sovereign Lord George the third of Great Brittain, France and Ireland. King, Defender of ye faith. &c., I, John Whitemore, of Leicester, in the County of Worcester and Province of ye Massachusetts Bay, in New England. Gent, being in a comfortable state of health and of sound mind and memory. NATH'L RICHARDSON, EZEKIEL FOSGATE.

jd. I utterly refuse to except of ye trust of Executor to ye aforegoing Will.

Sept. 4, 1771.

JOHN WHITEMORE.

NATHANIEL 5.

NATHANIEL 5. Son of "John, of Leicester," and great-great grandson of Thomas 1; b. 1732, at Leicester; and m. SARAH RICE, of Shrewsbury, Mass., Aug. 17, 1753. Issue. i. Sarah, b. July 18, 1754; ii. NATHANIEL, b. March 9, 1756; m. 1st w. Lucy Harrington; 2d w. Phebe Waite; 3d w. Joanna Hadley, [see post, Nathaniel 6); iii. Lydia, Feb. 15, 1758; m. John Parsons, of Spencer, Mass., Oct. 28, 1779, at Brookfield, Mass.; iv. PAUL, May 24, 1760; m. his cousin, Lucretia Whittemore, dau. of Nathan Whittemore, all then of Brookfield, Mass., May 12, 1784; Paul was at Peterborough, N.

H., about the beginning of this century, engaged in the business of a baker; he then had three children; and removed soon after to "the Black River country," Jefferson county, N. Y., lying on the east coast of Lake Ontario. He has descendants in Oneida county, N. Y. v. EBER, April 24, 1762; m. Elizabeth Knight, of Paxton, Mass., April 29, 1786. He, also, removed to "the Black River country."

THE RICE FAMILY.

Luke Rice, the father of Sarah Rice, wife of Nathaniel 5, was son of Daniel Rice, of Marlboro, Mass.; Daniel's father, Luke's grandfather, was Edward Rice, who was a Deacon of the Marlboro church, and went to Marlboro from Sudbury; and was the son of Richard Rice, who came from England and settled in Concord, Mass., in 1635, and d. 1709, "accounted," say the records, "more than 100 years old; he left 8 sons, each of whom, tradition says, lived to be over 90 years of age." Luke, the father of Sarah Whittemore, was b. in 1689; m. Rachel Stow, of and in Marlboro, Dec. 14, 1715. When he removed to Shrewsbury is not known; his children were all born in Marlboro, and most of them were, probably, of adult age when they and their parents removed there. He was one of the town assessors in Shrewsbury in 1742 and for the six succeeding years, as well as one of the selectmen during the same time. He d. July 4, 1754, aged about 65. His widow Rachel was living in 1760, and, for several years after, her death is not recorded. Their children were Azubah, b. in 1716; Hezekiah, Feb. 18, 1718; Dinah, in 1719; and m. Abraham Eager, in 1739; Rachel, and m. Dea. Jonas Stone, in 1747; Abigail, in 1725; and m. Dea. Benja. Maynard, in 1746; Lydia, in 1728, and d. June 10, 1740; Priscilla, in 1731, and m. Jotham Howe; and Sarah in 1734; and m. Nathaniel Whittemore, 1753, for her first husband, and George Harrington, in 1774, for her second husband.

This Nathaniel Whittemore, probably, went from Leicester to Shrewsbury about 1752. He was by occupation a farmer. Ward's History of Shrewsbury and Hudson's History of Lexington both make mistakes in relation to him. The former says he was supposed to have come to Shrewsbury originally from Weston or vicinity, and the latter confounds him with Nathaniel, Jr., of Lexington, b. in 1729; whereas the latter was the son of Nathaniel, of Lexington, and married Jemima Dunton, of Bedford, Mass., Nov. 1st, 1753. They are two different and distinct persons.

Nathaniel 5 died at Shrewsbury in 1764, aged 34.—His father, "John, of Leicester," who died several years after him, bequeathed one pound to each of his five children, Sarah, Nathaniel, Lydia, Paul and Eber.—His widow Sarah, who subsequently married George Harrington, of Brookfield, Mass., by whom she had three children, probably, died between the date of the birth of her last child in 1778 and 1782.

NATHANIEL 6.

NATHANIEL 6. Son of the preceding Nathaniel 5, grandson of "John, of Leicester," and great-great-great grandson of Thomas 1; b. at Shrewsbury, Mass., March 9th, 1756; m., 1st w., LUCY HARRINGTON, youngest daughter of George Harrington, of Brookfield, Mass., by his first wife Rebecca, April 20, 1780; she. d. at Peterborough, N. THE HARRINGTON FAMILY.

LUCY HARRINGTON, the first wife of the preceding Nathaniel 6, was daughter of George Harrington, of Brookfield, Mass. Her father was born at Watertown, Mass., March 16, 1717-18; he was a son of George; who was a son of John; who was a son of Robert Harrington, of Watertown, the ancestor of the Harrington family in New England, and who was at Watertown in 1642, being the last on the list of the original proprietors in that town. George, the father of Lucy, m. 1st w., Rebecca Allen, of Watertown, Jan. 1, 1740-1; who was b. June 13, 1720; by whom he had eleven children, viz.: (1) Ephraim, b. April 17, 1742, in Weston; (2) Sarah, Aug. 3, 1743; d.; and the following in Brookfield, (3) Ebenezer, Sept. 8, 1745, d.; (4) Sarah, Sept. 5, 1747; (5) Ebenezer, Aug. 29, 1749; (6) Eunice, June 29, 1751; (7) Rebecca, Jan. 26, 1753, (8) Jacob, April 4, 1756; enlisted in the revolutionary war, Sept., 1776; (9) Thankful, July 23, 1758; (10) Elisha, June 23, 1760; a revolutionary pensioner at Spencer, Mass.; (11) Lucy, June 29, 1762, 1st wife of Nathaniel 6, of Peterborough. Rebecca, the mother, died April 12th, 1764; and the father married for 2d w., Sept. 27, 1764, Betty Smith, of Waltham, who was b. Feb. 11, 1715, by whom he had no children. The date of her death is not recorded. He then married for 3d w., March 12th, 1774, Sarah, widow of Nathaniel Whittemore 5, by whom he had three children, viz.: (1) Rice, b. Jan. 25, 1775; (2) Betsey, Sept. 25, 1776; (3) Mary, Jan. 11, 1778. George, the father, d., probably, about 1782–3. He had 12 brothers and sisters, viz, Abigail, Hannah, Abiel, Thankful, Mary, Grace, Joshua, Lydia, Phincas, d., Phineas again, Ruth and Prudence. Ruth m. Nathaniel Bemis, who was the third son of Samuel Bemis, the second settler in Spencer, Mass., who was the descendant of Joseph Bemis, who emigrated to Watertown in 1640, and was the American ancestor of the Bemis family. This Nathaniel Bemis and Ruth, his wife, had eight children, viz.: Hannah, Elizabeth, Bernard, Ruth, Nathaniel, Nathan, Betty and Moses. He died in 1784, and his wife in 1817.

THE WAITE FAMILY.

Phebe Waite, the second wife of the preceding Nathaniel 6, was daughter of Nathaniel Waite, the first of the name, who went to Leicester, Mass. He was born in Malden, in 1701. He settled upon his farm, when it was a primitive forest, the road to which was indicated by marked trees. His first wife was Mary Richardson, whom he m. in 1735; she lived but a few months, when he m. Hannah, daughter of Richard Southgate, who came with Daniel Denny, from Coombs, Suffolk co., England, in 1715, where she was born in 1709. Their children were: (1) Nathaniel, 1738; lived in Hubbardston; d. in 1815; (2) Hannah, 1740; m. Thomas Earle: (3) Nathan, 1742: (4) David, 1744; removed to New Braintree; d. in 1815; (5) Phineas, 1746; m. Patty Forbes; d. 1810: (6) Jonathan, 1748: lived in Woodstock, Vt.; d. 1810; (7) Samuel, 1750; (8) William, 1751; m. Hannah, dau. of Daniel Sargent: lived in New Braintree; d. 1837; (9) Mary, 1753: (10) Phebe, 1757; m. Nathaniel Whittemore, of Peterborough, N. H.; d. 1834; (11) Asa, 1759; (12) Elizabeth, m. Potter Cole: removed to Ohio, when a widow, and d. 1845. The father m. a 3d wife, Phebe Read, in 1756, mother of Phebe, wife of Nathaniel Whittemore 6, and he d. 1791, at the age of 90, never having been sick a day in his life; and, says Washburn's History of Leicester, from which the above account is taken, he was followed to the grave by the above-named twelve children.

Nathaniel 6, of Peterborough, bought the farm, on which he lived and died, in that town, in 1781, of Joseph Morse, of Leicester, paying for it "one hundred and twenty pounds, silver money," which meant real money of intrinsic value then, for the paper money of that day, the "Old Continental," was worthless, requiring $1000 of it to buy a breakfast; the farm comprised 100 acres. The deed describes him as belonging to Brookfield, Mass. In all probability he removed to Peterborough with his family soon after the date of his deed, April 6, 1781. In his History of Peterborough, the late Dr. Smith says of him: "He settled on the spot, on which he died, which was a short distance east from the junction of the road from West Peterborough with the old county road, as it was called. He here built a house and subsequently kept a tavern in it.—He was a carpenter by trade and built his own house, which, at first, comprised but one room, and was afterwards enlarged by several additions. He, probably, settled there before a road was constructed in that part of the town, as when a proposition for a road was made in town meeting some one objected, on the ground, that it was not needed, because only "twa Robbes, twa Hoggs and a Whatamore" would be accommodated by it."

He was a soldier of the war of the Revolution, enlisting in the Co., commanded by Capt. Isaac Gleason, Col. John Nixon's regiment, Massachusetts Line, where he served one year in 1776–77, and was on duty in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Subsequently, he served nine months in Capt. Gager's Co., Col. Hay's regiment. He was on the U. S. pension roll at the time of his death. Mr. John W. Farwell, a great grandson, has in his possession the bayonet carried by him in that war.

NATHANIEL 2. Second son of the preceding Nathaniel 6: b. at Peterborough, May 21, 1783: m. Betsey Dodge, of New Boston, in 1808. Issue.—(1) Mary, d. (2) John, b. May 20, 1812: m. Bernard, the father, went from Peterborough to Boston, before he was of age. He resided and was engaged in business in Boston till 1819, when he returned to Peterborough, and remained there till 1839, when he removed to Nashua, where he lived at the time of his death, Aug. 8, 1846; he married Jane Holmes, daughter of Dea. Nathaniel Holmes, of Peterborough, Dec. 25, 1815; she was born at Peterborough, July 14, 1792, and resides in Nashua.

THE HOLMES FAMILY.

JANE HOLMES, wife of Bernard, is daughter of Dea. Nathaniel Holmes, of Peterborough, N. H., who was b. in Londonderry, N. H., Sept. 5, 1759, and d. in Peterborough, Sept. 10, 1832, æ. 73 yrs.; m. Katharine Allison, dau. Samuel and Janet McFarland Allison; the father of Samuel was, also, Samuel, who came from Londonderry, Ireland, and was one of the first settlers in Londonderry, N. H., where she was b. in 1760, and d. at Peterborough, April 29, 1831, æ. 71. Dea. Holmes was son of Nathaniel and Elizabeth Moore Holmes; his father was born at Coleraine, county of Antrim, Ireland; d. at Londonderry, N. H., in 1764. His grandfather, Nathaniel Holmes, and grandmother, lived and died in Coleraine. Dea. Holmes was in the war of the Revolution and was at the battle of White Plains. When he was urged to enlist he declined, on the ground that his clothes were all worn out. His sister, Mrs. William Moore, hearing the conversation, said to her husband: "Billy, you furnish the shoes, and I will furnish the clothes." The next morning four early lambs were robbed of their fleeces, and their wool, with two pounds already on hand, was colored, spun, woven and made into clothing, and in twenty days the young soldier joined his company and was on his way to Saratoga. He had ten children.

IV.

PARTIAL LINEAGE OF THE WHITTEMORE FAMILY,

MAINLY RESIDING, AT DIFFERENT PERIODS, AT MALDEN, MASS., CAMBRIDGE, LEXINGTON, CONCORD, HARVARD AND LANCASTER, MASS., RINDGE, N. H., AND AT GRAFTON, MC HENRY CO., ILLINOIS, AND BEATRICE, NEB.

Thomas Whittemore, the common ancestor of the name in America, came from the town of Hitchin, Hertfordshire, England, about the year 1640, and settled in that part of Malden, now Everett, Mass.

Hitchin is a large and ancient market town, 34 miles northwesterly from London; and in 1801, containing 3161 inhabitants. It had its origin in the Saxon times, and was granted by Edward the Confessor to Earl Harold, by the name of Hitche. In the Domesday Book it is called Hiz, a name that, according to Chauncy, it received from the river Hiz, which flows through it.

William Whittemore was born at Hitchin as early as 1540. He had brothers, Rowland and Thomas. Thomas was married in 1566, and Rowland was married; and he died in 1613.

This is the earliest ancestry, which I (E. S. W.) have been able to trace of our family in England, except that of John, Lord de Whytemere of the Co. of Salop, who was probably born not far from the year 1200.

Thomas, son of the foregoing William, was married in the year 1591.

Thomas was son of the above Thomas. The will of the last Thomas was dated May 5, 1613, and he was buried in Hitchin, November 26, 1617.—Thomas, the son of the last named, was our first American ancestor. On coming to America he purchased in 1645, of John Cotton, teacher of Boston, a parcel of land in the present city of Chelsea.

This Thomas had thirteen children by three wives.

By his first wife Sarah ——— he had Sarah, baptized April 14, 1616, and on October 31, 1616, this wife died. On April 14, 1623, he married (2d) Sarah Deardes, by whom he had Mary, baptized May 12, 1624, and Thomas, baptized October 6, 1626. This Thomas never came to America. This second wife Sarah died November 17, 1628. He married his third wife Hannah ——, by whom he had born in England: Daniel, baptized July 31, 1633; John, baptized April 27, 1635, buried Apr. 29, 1635; Nathaniel, baptized May 1, 1636, and John, (from whom I, [E. S. W.] am descended,) baptized February 11, 1638, so that it must have been later than John's birth in 1638, that his father came to America. On coming here he had the following children in Malden, Mass.: Elizabeth, Benjamin, Thomas, (here we see two Thomases in the same family living at the same time, one in England and this one in America.) Samuel, Pelatiah and Abraham. This Thomas our first American ancestor died early in the spring of 1660.

John, the fifth son of Thomas, was our 2d ancestor, born in England, Feb. 11, 1638. He was m. twice and by both wives he had fifteen children.—His first wife was Mary, dau. Dea. John and Elizabeth Upham, of Malden. This wife d. June 27, 1677, and the following October he m. Mary Miller.

The children of John are as follows: Thomas, b. 1664; Joseph, b. 1669; Benjamin, [from whom I (E. S. W.) am descended], b. 1669; Elizabeth, b. about 1671, Nathaniel, b. 1673, (?); Joel, b. about 1675; d. Apr. 27, 1676; Joel, b. 1677; Mary, b. 1678; d young; Pelatiah, b. 1680; Amos, b. 1681; Mary, b. 1683; Daniel, b. 1685; d. Mar. 27, 1686; Rebecca, b. 1687; and Hannah, b. 1689; the 15th child, Daniel, was baptized in Watertown, Mass., May 17, 1691, at which time his parents lived in Malden.—Mary, his 2d wife, outlived her husband 37 years; she d. in Watertown, June 28, 1731, aged 87 years. He d. in Cambridge on a farm he had leased of Gov. Danforth, Dec. 8, 1694. He was a wheelwright by trade. He moved three times during his life.

Benjamin, who is styled "Lieut. Benjamin of Concord," was the third son of the foregoing John, and he was born in Malden, September 2, 1669, and d. in that part of Concord, Mass., now embraced in the limits of Lincoln, Sept. 8, 1734. He m. Esther, dau. of Dea. Joshua and Hannah (Mason) Brooks, of Concord. After his marriage he settled in Concord. He was a weaver by trade and he carried it on jointly with agriculture. He represented the town in the Provincial Legislature during the years 1709, '10, '11, '14, '19 and '20. He had six children. Benjamin, b. Apr. 9, 1696; d. October 22, 1734, aged 38 years, 6 months and 13 days, leaving a widow, Ruhamah. This last Benj., Jr., also represented the town in the Provincial Legislature under the New Charter.

Lieut. Benjamin's second son, Nathaniel, was my (E. S. W.) great grand father, b. in Concord, December 11, 1698, and died in Harvard, Mass, January 31, 1769, aged 70 years. He m. Abigail Blood, of Littleton. She d. Mar. 26, 1760. He removed from Lincoln to Harvard in the spring of 1758. The other children of Lieut. Benjamin were, Mary, Aaron, Mehitable and Grace.

Aaron, b. December 13, 1711 and d. in Pembroke, N. H., Nov. 16, 1767. He graduated from Harvard college in 1734, the year his father and brother Benj. died. Aaron after graduating removed to Groton, Mass., and preached there until 1737, when he was ordained as the first minister of Pembroke, N. H. He died there suddenly in the pulpit, Nov. 16, 1767.

Nathaniel, Jr., son of the foregoing Nathaniel, was my grandfather, b. in Concord, July 4, 1741, and died in Lancaster, Mass., Jan. 3, 1822. He was married three times: 1st, m. Martha Farnsworth, of Groton, b. 1750, d. Mar. 10, 1776, aged 26 years, by whom he had Joseph, b. Feb. 1, 1771; Benj. b. Aug. 30, 1772; Calvin, b. Mar. 5, 1773; d. Mar. 26, 1766; Nathaniel, b. May 17, 1774, d. July 27, 1856.

He m. 2d, Lydia Stone, of Groton, in 1777, by whom he had five children: Lydia, b. Nov. 28, 1778; m. Joseph Emerson: Martha, b. Aug. 9, 1780; never m.; d. June 7, 1851; Dorcas, b. May 17, 1782; m. Benj. Farnsworth; she d. July 27, 1862; Asa Dunbar, b. Aug. 21, 1784; d. Feb. 21, 1808; never m. Prescott, my (E. S. *Nathaniel Whittemore, above mentioned, was an assessor in Lexington, in 1718, and constable in 1720. He resided on the Concord road near the Concord line. He was an almanac maker, and published about 1707. He was a man of more than ordinary education for that day, and was often employed as a surveyor. He, also, sold drugs, and hence is often denominated Doctor in the records of the town of Lexington. One number of his almanacs has its position in the scale of time thus fixed: "For the year of our Lord 1707, being third after leap year. From the creation, 5656; from Noah's flood, 4000; from the building of London, 2814; from the death of Alex. the Great, 2050; from the Discovery of America, 215; The reign of our Gracious Queen Ann the 6th." Another almanac, published in 1724, has the following: "Oh! Heaven, crown our Great and Gracious King with length of days and lasting peace. Beneath his feet let all his foes stoop down; let him be a nursing father, while on earth he reigns; and of God's church great care may he take, and Christ will him reward with lasting gain. God save the King." His will, dated Feb. 22, 1752, and proved Jan. 6, 1755 mentions wife Abigail, sons Nathaniel and Jacob, and sister Rebecca. See Hudson's Hist. of Lexington.

* He was b. Apr. 19, 1759, at Cambridge, Ms.; d. at West Cambridge, (now Arlington, Ms.,) Mar. 27, 1828. The son of a farmer. He worked for some years as a gunsmith, and finally formed a copartnership with his bro. and others for the manufacture of cotton and wool cards. He soon after invented a machine for puncturing the leather, and setting the wires—a work previously performed by hand. He found the greatest difficulty in bending the wires to a given angle after they were finally fastened in the leather, and was on the point of abandoning the attempt, when in a dream he discovered the method of effecting it. The invention was patented in 1797, and it was sold for $150,000; but afterward Samuel, his brother, repurchased it, and carried on the business. Amos devoted his later years to the invention of an orrery, in which every planet was to describe its own orbit, but did not live to complete it.—Howe's Hist. of Inventors.

EVERETT, MASS.

Since the statement in relation to the original homestead of Thomas, the common American ancestor of the Whittemore family, was put in print, (see pp. 7, 10, of this pamphlet,) additional facts in regard to that, and the genealogy of William Whittemore, the last one of the name who owned it, have been received and are inserted here. As there stated the house built by Joseph Whittemore was erected in 1806; it was a story and a half house with a wheelwright shop underneath, in which Joseph worked at his trade. A part of the original house was put into the one erected in 1806, the old one having been taken down, at that time. This house was destroyed by fire in December, 1863, or 1864. The following is the genealogy of William:

DEATHS.

Isaac, son of Joseph and Sarah, July 27, 1712.
Joseph, died Mar. 1, 1737. (Parents not given.)

On the Woburn records is the entry of a marriage of Joseph Whittemore and Mary Marion, of Boston, Dec. 24, 1741; also, records of the births of three children, viz.: Mary, Feb., 1743; Hannah, Oct. 27, 1744; and Rebekah, July 16, 1747. On the Leominster records are the entries of the births of these same children and of Joseph and Mary Whitmore as their parents and against the names of the children is the entry—"born at Woburn." On the same records are the names of seven more of their children, the first being Joseph, b. June 6, 1749, and against their names the entry, "born at Leominster." There is no question but the Joseph and Mary Whittemore, of Woburn, are identical with the Joseph and Mary Whitmore, of Leominster, but which record is correct is not apparent. This Joseph is claimed to have been a Whitmore by one genealogist in the N. E. Hist. and Gen. Register.

PLYMOUTH, MASS.

MARRIAGES.

May 26, 1743, by Rev. Mr. Nathaniel Leonard, Josiah Whittemore, of Charlestown, and Mary Hatch, of Plymouth.

Dec. 22, 1771, married by Rev. Mr. Chandler Robbins, of Plymouth, Josiah Whittemore and Experience Sargent.

Mehitable, dau. of Josiah Whittemore and Mary Hatch, his wife, born April 15th, 1744.

Thomas Hatch, son of Josiah and Mary Whittemore, born Aug. 14, 1747.

Josiah, son of Josiah and Mary Whittemore, born Sept. 8th, 1747.*

Joannah, daughter of Josiah and Mary Whittemore, born March 21st, 1752.

*This is evidently a clerical mistake, as the record would indicate, that Thomas Hatch and Josiah were born within a month of each other. It was, probably, intended to be 1749.

LUNENBURG, MASS.

Josiah Whittemore, b. in 1748 or 1749; m. 1st w., Lucy Snow, at Lunenburg, Aug. 9th, 1773; and 2d w., Martha (Parkhurst) Rider. By his first wife he had ten children, viz., William Snow, John, (born at Lunenburg,) Salmon, Mary, Lucy, Josiah, Levi, Cephas, Otis, Betsey, (born at Leominster, Mass.;) and by his second wife four children, viz., Cephas, Zenas, Patty and Saloenus, (born at Phillipston, Mass.;) fourteen in all, of whom only one, Betsey, survives. The father died at Phillipston. Of his descendants, Mr. Joel Whittemore, of New York, a native of Fitzwilliam, N. H., has records, more or less complete, of nearly, perhaps quite, a hundred families. The name of the father of this Josiah is not ascertained.—There was a Josiah, son of Joseph 7; [ante, p. 26;] b. Mar. 20, 1720–1, at Charlestown; who m. Mary Hatch, at Plymouth, May 26, 1743, and had a son, Josiah, born, probably, the same year as the Josiah, of Lunenburg, [ante, p. 44, under the head of "Plymouth, Mass.;"] but he married Dec. 22, 1771, Experience Sargent, at Plymouth. This may have been the same Josiah as that of Lunenburg, and Experience Sargent may have been his first wife, but there is no record of her death on either the Plymouth or Lunenburg town records or the record of any children of Josiah on Plymouth record. There was, also, a Josiah, son of Joseph 9, [ante, p. 26,] born at Charlestown the same year as the Lunenburg Josiah, but he is mentioned in the History of Cambridge as having died young as well as another of the same name, an older brother, b. in 1747. On the contrary, Wyman's Genealogies and Estates of Charlestown, recently published, makes no mention of the death of the Josiah born in 1749. Among the descendants of the Lunenburg Josiah is a tradition, that he and two brothers came over from England; that one of them died unmarried; that another married and settled in Lynn, Mass., and had one child, a son, who was drowned when young; and the other, this Josiah, went into the country and married Lucy Snow, of Lunenburg. If this is correct, it upsets the theory of the genealogists that Thomas, of Charlestown, was the common ancestor. Traditions are very often composed of flimsy materials, however.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS.

p. 3.—Savage, in his Genealogies of the First Settlers of New England, says, that Thomas, the common American ancestor, "is not found among the inhabitants of Charlestown in 1658; though he may have lived in some other town of Mass., at that day, as he did a few years before at Reading." He may have been temporarily in that part of Reading, which was comprised, at the time, within the limits of Charlestown, but his will was executed in Charlestown a short time previous to his death, as may be inferred from its being witnessed by Roger Kenacut, who was a resident of Charlestown. Besides, he purchased of Rev. John Cotton a meadow adjoining his homestead in 1645, showing that he must have settled there soon after he came over from England.

p. 5.—The Family at Hitchin, England. Mr. William L. Whittemore, of Boston, a few years since, visited Hitchin. He says, he made some discoveries while in England "in relation to the origin of the name and the early history of the Whittemore line. There are no Whittemores, at present, at Hitchin; and, as far as I could judge, only few in any part of England.—The Whitmores are much more numerous. They are undoubtedly descendants of our ancestor, Lord John de Whytemere, knighted, I believe, in the 13th century." In his work on "Curiosities of Literature," Disraeli devotes a chapter to the "orthography of proper names." He says, "We are often perplexed to decide how the names of some of our eminent men ought to be written; and we find that they are even now written diversely. The truth is, that our orthography was so long unsettled among us, that it appears by various documents of the time which I have seen, that persons were at a loss now to write their own names, and most certainly have written them variously. I have sometimes suspected, that estates may have been lost, and descents confounded, by such uncertain and disagreeing signatures of the same person. In a late suit respecting the Duchess of Norfolk's estate, one of the ancestors has his name printed Higford, while in the genealogy it appears Hickford. Ray, the naturalist, informs us that he first wrote his name Wray, but afterwards omitted the W. Dr. Whitby, in books published by himself, writes his name sometimes Whiteby. We saw recently an advertisement in the newspapers offering five thousand pounds reward to prove a marriage in the family of the Knevetts, which occurred about 1633. What most disconcerted the inquirers is their discovery that the family name was written in six or seven different ways; a circumstance which I have no doubt will be found in most family names in England. Fuller mentions that the name of Villers was spelt fourteen different ways in the deeds of that family."

"John Whittemore, of Leicester," and his eldest son John, both spelt their names with one t; [ante, p. 13] Probably not one of their descendants of the present generation can be found, who does not write his name with two t's. In 1822, John Randolph, of Roanoke, visited England, and in one of his letters speaks of a Mr. Whittemore, "the member of the House of Commons from Bridgenorth." His name was Whitmore. In 1860, the late Mr. S. G. Drake, the well known genealogist, and, at one time, the publisher of the N. E. Hist. and Gen. Register, while in England, obtained access to the volumes of the Rolls office, Chancery Lane, London, and transcribed the names of the early emigrants to New England. One of the records is as follows: "xvth Aprill, 1635. In the Eliza de Lond, Wm. Stagg vrs. New England. Theis p'tis haue taken oathe of Allegiance and of Supremacy before Sr. William Whit*i*mor Sr. Nicho. Ranton." [Here follow the names of the passengers.] In regard to this name of Whitimor Mr. Drake says, in a foot note, that it might "easily be taken for Whitmore, as the last i is not dotted; nor are half of that letter dotted in the whole Ms." See N. E. Hist. and Gen. Register, vol. 14, p. 310. [Query.—Was not this the letter e instead of i?

His name may have been Whitemor.] On a succeeding page (319) of the Register Mr. Drake gives the certificate of "Sr. George Whitmore," upon which he adds the foot note—"The same spelt Whitimor in a previous page." This Sir George was at one time Lord Mayor of London and a representation of his coat of arms is given in "Gwillim's Display of Heraldrie," published in 1660. To the above facts showing how the orthography of surnames becomes changed, may be added those disclosed by the town records of the towns of Woburn and Leominster, Mass., as will be seen by referring to a preceding page under the head of "Woburn."

p. 8.—In the third line from the top of the page for Feb. 8, 1660, read Feb. 8, 1660–61.

p. 11.—"John, of Leicester," was town clerk of that town from 1737 to 1749, and from 1751 to 1761, a period of twenty-two years: also, one of the board of selectmen in 1732, '33, '34, '39, '42, '43, '44, '45, '47, '48, '49 and '51, a period of twelve years and a portion of the time chairman of the board.

p. 27.—In the nineteenth line from the top for one son m. Retire, read one son n., (named) Retire (he owned real estate in Salem;) and, in the next succeeding line, for "Salem," read Lynn.

p. 29.—At the end of the third line from the top, for Thomas, read Joseph. According to one genealogist the name was Thomas, but the Woburn town records have it recorded Joseph.

p. 30.—At the close of the paragraph giving the genealogy of Amos 12, for Harriet read Harriet Mary Ann. Herman Foster, whom she married, went to Manchester, N. H., in 1840. Previously he had been a school teacher and engaged in mercantile business. After going to Manchester he commenced the practice of law. He was a member of the N. H. House of Representatives from Manchester in 1845 and 1846, and subsequently in 1868 and 1869; also, of the State Senate in 1860 and 1861. He d. Feb. 17, 1875, æ. 74. His widow still resides in Manchester.

In addition to the testimony of Judge Story in relation to the invention of the card machine by Amos Whittemore, mentioned on the same page (p. 30 ante,) may be cited that of the late Edward Everett and John Randolph, of Roanoke. Everett compared its performance with the mechanism of the human system, and Randolph said in Congress, in 1809, "he would renew the patent to all eternity, for it is the only machine which ever had a soul!"

OBITUARY.

Mr. Hiram Whittemore, the compiler of the foregoing, died at Kankakee, Ills., April 9, 1890. He was 79 years of age, and for many years was a banker and leading business man in the city in which he resided. "Whittemore's Bank" was one of the solid financial institutions in the '60's, but since 1868 Mr. Whittemore has devoted his time to looking after his farms. Mr. Whittemore was born in Pembroke, N. H. March 31, 1811. The early years of his life were passed on the home farm and in teaching school. In 1838 he married Elizabeth Hoit, of Exeter, N. H., and went west, settling at Babcock's Grove, now Lombard, in Du Page County, Ills., in 1839. His family soon after followed him. Here he lived for about fifteen years, and in 1854 went to Kankakee, where he has since resided. In 1855 he assisted in organizing that city, being one of the trustees of the First ward. Mr. Whittemore was a postmaster under Pierce in DeKalb County, and was appointed to take the census in the county under Buchanan.

Hon. Aaron Whittemore, Jr., of Pittsfield, born in Pembroke, N. H., Jan. 18, 1849, died May 4, 1885. As a lawyer and military officer he was a man of marked influence. He was a son of Hon. Aaron Whittemore, of Pembroke, N. H., mentioned above. The deceased left a son Aaron, making six generations bearing that name. The deceased was educated at Pembroke Academy and Harvard Law School, and was admitted to the bar in 1870. He secured an extensive practice in his profession and was elected State Senator in 1883, and was Major in the 1st. Brigade, New Hampshire Militia, at the time of his death. He left a widow and three children.

BENJAMIN 4. Son of John (3), born 1700, at Malden; died at Chelsea, Mass. ISSUE. i. Benjamin, b. Oct. 9, 1724. ii. Esther, b. Oct. 5, 1729. iii. Phoebe, b. Feb. 6, 1731. iv. Rebecca, b. June 16, 1734. v. Abraham, b. March 7, 1736. vi. Amos, b. Feb. 26, 1738. The father was chosen collector of taxes and constable for Rumney Marsh, for several years.

BENJAMIN 5. Son of Benjamin (4,) born Oct. 9, 1724; married Hannah Collins, of Chelsea, Mass., April 28, 1746; he died at Greenfield, N. H., Jan. 10, 1798. ISSUE. i. Amos, born Feb. 9, 1747, at Chelsea, Mass. ii. ——— ———. iii. Peter. iv. Benjamin, b. March 6, 1752, at Nottingham West, (now Hudson, N. H.); he went to Salisbury, N. H., and had sons; John, Ebenezer, b. in 1777, Benjamin, Amos and other children; Ebenezer had 17 children, all born in Salisbury, of whom David V. was the 16th, and was living in Providence, R. I., in 1880, having sons, who were proprietors of the Burrillville (Providence) GAZETTE; v. Sarah, b. June 8, 1754. vi. Hannah, b. April 9, 1756. vii. Phoebe, b. Aug. 18, 1763. viii. Esther, b. May 18, 1766. The father, probably, moved from Chelsea to Nottingham West, about the year 1748, where the last five children named above were born; there is a mistake in the Nottingham West town records, the mother's name being recorded SARAH; it should have been HANNAH. The record of the town would show, that he had built a house at Nottingham West in 1746: "August 20, 1746. Voted to move the preaching to Benjamin Whittemore's house." Oct. 20, 1746, a committee was chosen to find the "centre of the town up and down," and at an adjourned meeting, November 20th, the "committee's report is, that the centre up and down of this town is on the northeasterly side of Mr. Benjamin Whittemore's lot, and on the east side of the way that leads to Litchfield." The meeting house was accordingly built there. This is the same road now known as the Back road, or Burns road. [History of Hudson, by Kimball Webster, in the "History of Hillsborough County."] He was a private from Hudson, in the war of the Revolution, in Capt. Samuel Greeley's company. He was in Nottingham West in 1777, as the following town record shows: March 10, 1777, "voted to choose Benjamin Whittemore to dig graves." He removed to Greenfield in the latter part of his life, and lived with his eldest son, Major Amos, at the time of his death, in 1798.

MAJOR AMOS 6. Son of Benjamin (5), born at Chelsea, Mass., Feb. 9, 1747; married Molly Taylor, of Milford; he died Aug. 18, 1827, ae. 80 years, 6 mos.; she died Nov. 27, 1837, ae. 92. ISSUE. i. Collins, b. June 7, 1767, at Hudson; m. Mehitable Fuller, and settled on the place in Hancock, where his son, Hiram Whittemore, recently died. ii. Asa, b. in 1769, m. Hannah Burnham, of Greenfield, and lived and died in Hancock. iii. Amos, married Polly Savage. iv. Benjamin, married Deborah Perry, and lived and died in Bennington, and was father of Charles P. and Timothy, of Boston, Emily, Francis M. and others. v. Polly, married Paul Cragin, of Greenfield. vi. Betsey, married Dr. Moses Marsh. vii. Jacob, of Antrim. viii. William, of Greenfield. ix. Abram, married Martha Marshall and died on the homestead of Major Amos, in Greenfield.

Major Amos went from Chelsea to Notthingham West, now Hudson, when a child, with his father Benjamin and lived there until after his marriage, his first child, Collins, having been born there in 1767. In the year 1769 he was an inhabitant of Monson, a town bounded on the north by Souhegan river and south by Hollis, and had a corporate existence for twenty-four years, when it was annexed, part to Hollis and part to Amherst. In 1771 he went to what was then a part of Lyndeborough Gore, which, with portions of Society Land, and Peterborough, was incorporated into a town and called Greenfield, in 1790. He was one of the settlers and purchased, and died on, the farm, now owned by his grandson, A. Marshall Whittemore, Esq. He was a Major in the Revolutionary war. He went to Lexington, on the alarm occasioned by that battle, and returned with Lieut. Barron; was at Ticonderoga in 1776, and enlisted and went to New York, Sept. 26, 1776, and was at Bennington under Stark, in 1777. Rev. Mr. Cochrane's History of Antrim preserves one incident, which is worthy of being handed down:— "On one occasion he received orders to march the next morning. But he was wofully short of pantaloons at that time and knew not what to do. Nevertheless, after consultation with his blessed wife, Molly Taylor, he went to the barn, though now three o'clock in the afternoon, and sheared a sheep; and from the wool his wife carded, spun, wove and made up a pair of pants, ready for the morning's march. Who says a woman isn't equal to anything"? He represented the town of Greenfield in 1807 and in 1814–15, and held various town offices.

JACOB 7. Son of Maj. Amos, b. at Lyndeborough Gore, Oct. 12, 1780, and died in Antrim, Oct. 14, 1860; married Rebecca Bradford, of Hancock, a sister of Rev. E. P. Bradford, of New Boston. He went to Antrim in 1809, and was engaged in farming till his decease. He was a representative from Antrim in 1818, 1819, 1838, 1839, and 1840; sheriff of the County of Hillsborough, under Gov. Benjamin Pierce and was one of the judges of the court of Common Pleas for the same county for several years. His children were:

(1) DR. JACOB P., b. May 16, 1810; died June 17, 1872; married Eliza Cochrane, of Antrim, Oct. 29, 1835; took the degree of M. DAVID (4), ancestor of the Litchfield Whittemores, came to New Hampshire sometime between 1730 and 1741. He was the second Whittemore, who came to this State from the original hive in Charlestown, Mass., Samuel, son of Thomas (1), who located in Dover, N. H., being the first. The deed of David's farm in Litchfield is dated Dec. 30, 1741. His descendants have occupied that farm ever since, a period of about 150 years.

WHITTEMORE----WHITMORE.

THE ORIGIN OF THE NAMES.

On page 17, ante, some facts are given in relation to the origin of the names, Whittemore and Whitmore. A question has been raised, whether the two families have a common origin. Under date of Oct. 1, 1881, 124, Southwark Park Road, London, S. E., Mr. Jos. L. Chester writes us as follows: "So far as my researches have gone, I have never been able to discover connection between the families of Whitmore and Whittemore, but reasoning from analogy, it seems almost certain, that they must have had far back a common origin." Mr. Chester, who died a year or more ago, in London, was a distinguished antiquarian, and a native of Norwich, Conn. He went to London in 1858, and resided there at the time of his decease. He was a member of the council of the Historical Society of Great Britain and of the Harleian Society for the publication of inedited MSS. relating to genealogy, heraldry, &c., and has written several works.

Since page 47, ante, was published, we have gleaned the subjoined matter on the subject. In a communication to the N. E. Historical and Genealogical Register for October, 1878, under the title, "The Family of Whittemore and Whitmore," Hon. E. S. Whittemore, of Sandwich, Mass., presented the following views:

"It has been repeatedly assumed that the family names of Whittemore and Whitmore are separate, distinct, and different in origin. Such may be the fact; but in tracing the lineage of each family we discover evidence, which refutes the presumption, and the preponderance of evidence is in favor of the fact that they came from one family.

Earlier than the year 1300, we find the first recorded name, i. e. John, Lord of Whytemere*, having his domicile at Whytemere, on the northeast side of the parish of Bobbington, in the manor of Claverley, in Shropshire. At the present time the same locality bears the name of Whittemore, while a large proportion of the family originating here, spell their name Whitmore. The fair inference, however, is that the name of the place and that of the family were originally the same.

It is recorded by two historians,† that Whittemore Hall, at Whittemore, was the place of origin of the Whitmore family.

The Anglo-etymology of the word WHYTEMERE is WHITE MEADOW, or LAKE, and the first JOHN, Lord of Whytemere, derived the name of the family from the place where they originally resided.

About the year 1483, the "DE," (of) was dropped, leaving it WHYTEMERE, as the surname; and not far from 1495, the Y was changed for I, and E after T omitted, leaving the name WHITMERE; while the name WHITTEMORE is obtained by adding a second T and retaining the E, and next to the last E in each name changed to O.

In the REGISTER for April, 1867, I traced the lineage of the Whittemore family of Hitchin, in the county of Hertford, to the year 1562, which is about three hundred years later than the time of the first JOHN, Lord de Whytemere. In the tenth year of the reign of James I., one William Whitmore, of Shropshire, went to the county of Hertford with one Jonas Verdon, and had granted to them there the Hundreds of Odsey and Edwinsstee; which fact has a tendency to show a common origin, as cumulative to the evidence already given. At the present day we find the name of WHAT-more, in the county of Salop, which exhibits further evidence of the various modes of spelling the name.

The present name of Whittemore has been spelled five or more different ways during the past three hundred and fifty years, and that of Whitmore differently.

There appear to be no known rules, by which English surnames are spelled. Even as late as the time of Shakespeare, we find his name written ten different ways, and by himself variously, among which is BREAKSPEAR, whereupon Ben Johnson wrote,

> ——— "He seems TO SHAKE A LANCE,
> As brandished at the eyes of ignorance."

*Sir B. Burke's Landed Gentry of Great Britain and Ireland.

†Rev. S. Shaw, and C. Hulbert's Hist. co. Salop.

To the above W. H. Whitmore, Esq., of Boston, replied in the REGISTER for January, 1879, as follows:

"I regret exceedingly the publication in the REGISTER for October, 1878, (p. 379,) of a communication purporting to show that the families of Whitmore and Whittemore have a common origin. The fact is of interest only to the bearers of these respective names; but it is due to the reputation of the REGISTER that the article should not stand unchallenged as a specimen of the critical powers of American genealogists. When a writer on such a topic can only cite Burke's Gentry and a county history, it is evident that his researches have not been very deep nor his conclusions very weighty. I shall quote the investigations of Somerby and Chester, and cite documents, of a higher authority than popular histories.

The simple and indisputable fact is that the only family of the name of Whitmore, identified with a manor of the same name at an early date, was a Staffordshire one. The manor of Whitmore in Staffordshire was held by Richard the Forester, in the 20th year of the Conquest. Afterwards it passed to the Boterels, and finally Reginal, son of William Boterel, is termed Dominus de Whitmore juxta Nova Castrum sub Lina, (New Castle, under Lyne), A. D., 1204. His son Robert is called de Whytmore or Whitmor, as was his oldest grandson. A second grandson is termed Reginald de Botrell de Whitmor, or de Boterel alias Whitmor, A. D., 1247. It is perfectly clear that in the first half of the thirteenth century, the surname of Wytemor or Whitmore was adopted by this family. The main line continued until about 1350, when it ended in two co-heiresses, one of whom carried the name of Whitmore to the Boghays, and the heiress of that family married Edward Mainwaring in 1519. The Mainwarings still own Whitmore Hall, and the parish is fully described in the Gazetteers. It is a station on the railroad, and contains 3350 acres of land.

Another branch was for several generations at Cannton, co. York, (Nottingham), spelling its name as Whitmore. A very distinguished branch was settled at Wytemor, or Wytemere, in Claverley, co. Salop, and at Thursnston, co. Cheshire. A full account of these families will be found in the Herald and Genealogist, edited by the late John Gough Nichols. The facts were collected by a distinguished English genealogist, who preferred that I should arrange and publish them. They were undisputed, and have been accepted and used by other genealogists.

There was some mysterious connection between the name of the Whitmore family, derived from the Staffordshire parish, and that of the small manor of Whytemere in Claverley, owned by a junior branch. But it was, probably, accidental. At all events, this branch, spelling their name Whytemere and Whytemore, finally (in 1495) Whitmore has been traced by me. William Whitmore went to London, where he died in 1593. He was a great merchant, became very wealthy, and bought lands in several counties. His descendants possessed the splendid estate of Apley in Shropshire until some ten years ago. Every baronetage and local history, including therein Burke's works, give a record of this family from the date of this William. Yet this is the person, whom Mr. E. S. Whittemore, in his article, has called "one William Whitmore of Shropshire, who went to the county of Hertford," &c., &c., and on whose supposed going, he bases his theory of a common origin.

Now it is perfectly understood that in genealogy facts and surmises are to be kept distinct. I have in my portfolios hundreds of facts and dates relating to persons of the name of Whitmore in England. Some few can be fairly affiliated to the known and recognized branches; others are so near to proof that a kind-hearted critic would almost concede them a place. But beyond that I have scores of names of Whitmores, whose pedigree will doubtless remain unknown. As it is doubtless true that the name means white MERE (whether MERE be a meadow or a lake) it may have originated in various other counties besides Staffordshire and Shropshire. But this name is clearly a dissyllable, white mere or more. In only one case have I found a family using a trisyllable, and making the name Whit-te-more. This is a very marked difference, and one pointing rather to a radical difference of origin than to a common source.

This family is the one settled at Hitchin co. Herts, from about 1560. The name is spelt Whitamor, Whitamore, &c., always with three syllables. Nothing is known of the origin of this family, but the will of the first Thomas, shows that he had relatives of the name in London. It is extremely probable that he was a malster or brewer in London, and that his only connection with Hertfordshire was by settling there after his retirement from business.

I have indicated with necessary brevity that there has been in England a village named Whitmore, whose owners took their name from it; that the history of this family is extant in print and that at least four prosperous and well known county families existed or exist. Still I must repeat that no bearer of the name has any right to speak of the meaning or origin of his particular name, unless he can show a line of proof. But the Whittemores are one degree worse off. They have got to produce proof that any of their ancestors ever were named Whitmore, before attempting to claim a common origin. Names are so easily perverted that it is not improbable that the Whita or Whitte part of their name is derived from some descriptive word other than "White." There is a whole group of names from "Withy," as "Withybrook," Withycombe, and Withypoole; why not Withymere as well?

In Connecticut the name Whitmore has been shortened to Wetmore. This fact is on record and easily proved. The emigrant was Thomas Whitmore, and some branches of his descendants have continued that form, though the majority have changed it. But I have never found a case, where Whitmore or Wetmore has been lengthened, by adding a syllable, into Whittemore.

I must therefore challenge Mr. E. S. Whittemore to substantiate his idea by facts. If he can trace his family before Thomas W., of Hitchin, I should like to know it. If he has any information about the history of any Whittemores, I shall be glad if he will impart it. But I must protest against the publication of trifling and inconclusive slips from easily accessible authorities, as a waste of time and patience."

REPLY OF E. S. WHITTEMORE.

"To the Editor of the Boston Daily Advertiser:—

I also regret the publication of some things in the New England Historical Register for January, 1879, (page 21,) furnished by Mr. William H. Whitmore, in reply to my article in the October number (1878) of the same journal, in which he says, among other things, 'when a writer on such a subject can only cite Burke's Gentry and a county history,' &c., &c., which is intended as a sneer at such authority. It may not be out of place, to inquire who Sir J. B. Burke and his father, John, were. The father and son spent many years in searching and collating from original and the best sources of information accessible in executing their invaluable and heraldic dictionaries of the landed gentry of Great Britain and Ireland; and yet Mr. Whitmore cites the authority of Somerby and Chester, and considers them so far paramount and unerring in their revelations of genealogical truth as to incur his epithet of "trifling" to the production of one who cites the Burkes, "as a waste of time and patience."

I am challenged in the article to which I am now replying, and I am requested to trace, if I can, the lineage of my family BEFORE Thomas Whittemore, of Hitchin, (1560.) To which I reply that nearly contemporaneous with this ancestor Parliament passed an act requiring parishes to record births, baptisms, marriages and deaths; and Hitchin about this time, I think, began its register. Previous to this period the chief means for tracing genealogy is by grants, wills, title deeds, &c.

In my brief article in the Register of October, (1878), after giving the main evidence of the common origin of the two names of Whittemore and Whitmore, I incidentally stated near the close, that "one William Whitmore of Shropshire," &c., &c., "went to the county of Hertford"—"which fact had a TENDENCY to show a common origin, as cumulative to the evidence already given;" and yet Mr. W. H. Whitmore asserted in his article that "on whose (W. W.'s) supposed going he (E. S. W.) bases his theory of a common origin." I do not base it on this fact, but only mentioned it as cumulative evidence.

At the present day, there is in the parish of Bobbington, in the manor of Claverley, county Salop, a place spelled Whit-i-more, which is a modern-looking farm house, which has also been spelled WHITTEMORE, and for centuries spelled with a trisyllable.

This locality is in county Salop, but the greater part of the parish is in Staffordshire. This family of Whittemore have held in fee this place since the signing of the Great Charter of Runnymede, by King John in 1215; and in early times the proprietors were called the "Lords of Whytemere." This place is many miles distant from Whitmore station, on the railroad between Stafford and Crewe, to which Mr. W. H. Whitmore refers, which fact, doubtless, he will be pleased to learn.

In conclusion I will submit to the candid judgment of any impartial genealogist this for answer:—

Here is the fact; JOHN, Lord de Whytemere, took his surname from (WHYTEMERE), the place where he resided, and this particular locality WHYTEMERE, WHITTEMORE AND WHITIMORE. Then, is it not a fact, or an inference beyond a reasonable doubt, that a part, at least, of those who derive their origin here (co. Salop) should spell their name in accord with the name of the place (Whittemore, etc.) and not ALWAYS deviate and spell it WHITMORE, especially in the absence of proof to the contrary, and since we have no evidence of any other place WHYTEMERE or WYTEMERE, which has given a surname to a family?

So far as I am concerned, I prefer the mode of spelling the name WHITTEMORE to WHITMORE for euphonions and etymological reasons.

Sandwich, Mass., 21, January, (1879.)

In further elucidation and illustration of the above points made by E. S. W. may be cited the following communications in the English "Notes and Queries," 3d Series, Vol. 5, published in London in 1864:

"WHITMORE FAMILY. Three places in Staffordshire may have originated this as a family name, viz. Whitmore, near Newcastle-under-Lyne; Wetmore, in the parish of Burton-on-Trent; and Wildmoor, in that of Bobbington, the last running into Shropshire. These places though distinguishable enough in modern writing, are not so in old MSS., where they are spelt very nearly alike. There is no doubt, however, that Erdeswicke was correct in his assertion, quoted by your correspondent, [W. H. Whitmore], that a race of gentry, springing from one Ranfer took their name from the manor and parish of Whitmore (the Witemore of Domesday), now a station on the N.W. Railway. Radulph de Boterel is styled Custos de Novo Castello, Safford, 15 Henry II., an office subsequently held by Henry, the first Lord Audley. Will. de Boterel, 2s Henry II., grandson of Radulph, married Avisa de Witmore, which came into his possession, and gave its name to his grandson, Rob. de Whitmore, Dns de Wytmore, 14 John—26 Henry III. The two next generations seem to have increased their property considerably; Robertus de Whytemore, Dns de Whytmore, 41—44 Hen. III., son and heir of the last, holding in right of his wife, Ada de Walleshull, "in vasta forestes Walleshull," the manor and vill Brocton sup. Wytemor (the modern Wildmoor), and his son Willmus de Wytmore surnamed Forestarius, Dns de Wytmore, 45 Hen. III. —— 10 Edw. I, holding (I presume in right of his wife Agnes de Haselwall, who was possessed of an estate in the neighborhood), in the same Wytimore and in Burchton, both being within the manor of Claverley, Salop. He had likewise by gift from the king, (in reward, I suppose, for his services in the Welsh wars) the church of Claverley and its members, Burchton and Bobiton. It must be this Will. fil. Rob. de Whitmore, with whom Ormerod commences his pedigree of the Whitmores of Hunstanton in Cheshire. * * * * SHEM."

"WHITMORE FAMILY, (English Notes and Queries, 3d S. V. 159.)—Your correspondent says that "three places in Staffordshire may have originated this as a family name, viz.: Whitmore, near Newcastle-under-Lyne; Wetmore, in the parish of Burton-on-Trent; and Wildmoor in that of Bobbington, the last running into Shropshire." But, as regards this last place, your correspondent is not quite correct; and as the correction of the mistake (such as it is), may tend to strengthen his surmises, I here note it. Wildmoor is a spot on the Staffordshire side of the high range of ground, called Abbots Castle Hill, between Claverley and Seisdon, and is about a mile and a half from the boundary of the parish of Bobbington, a small part of which parish is in the county of Salop. It is just at this spot, within Shropshire, and on the outskirts of the parish of Bobbington, adjacent to the parish of Claverley, that we come upon one of those better class of farm-houses, which may, at some previous time, not improbably have formed the residence of a squire's younger son, if not a squire himself. This substantial house, with its barns and stables, and outlying buildings, its four cottages for workmen, and its well-stocked farm, is that same "Wytimore within the manor of Claverly, Salop," to which your correspondent refers as having been held by the Whitmores in the reign of Edward I. On the Ordnance map, the place is marked as "Whitimore;" but it is locally pronounced "Wittymere." Mr. Whitmore, of Apley, is the patron of the parish, in which Whitimore is situated.—CUTHBERT BEDE."

"Cuthbert Bede" was the pseudonym of Rev. Edward Bradley, who has recently deceased. He was an eminent English author.

WILDMOOR AND WHITIMORE. (3d S. V. 220.) Not being personally acquainted with the county in question, I was obliged to depend upon others; and while writing my note, I had before me Faden's large map of Staffordshire in 1799; together with Cruchley's Maps and Walker's County Atlas—the two last reduced from the Ordnance Survey. It will be seen, I think, that I could hardly come to any other conclusion than that the two names applied to the same place. Cruchley omits Whitimore, in Shropshire; and lays down Wildmoor farm within the borders of Staffordshire on the same spot, near Abbots Castle, where Faden has inserted Wildmoor. Walker follows an opposite course, noting Whilimore (SIC.) in Shropshire, and not giving either name in Staffordshire. I knew that the parish of Bobbington extends into Salop; and when I said Wildmoor did so, I was of course alluding to that portion of Bobbington, which your correspondent observes is now locally known as Wittymere. After all, it may be that Willmore was the original appellation, and that the property of the Whitmore family came to be called after them, one name passing easily into the other; or, VICE VERSA, Willmore and Wildmoor may of themselves be corruptions of Whitimore, and instances of the changes of nomenclature, which so frequently occur. The dissimilarity of the ancient and modern names certainly struck me; but they are scarcely greater than those of the place near Burton-on-Trent. The authorities quoted by Shaw prove that Wetmore was formerly written Wittmore, Wythmere, Wightmere, &c. I will not conclude without offering my thanks to your correspondent for his friendly correction.—SHEM."

To the foregoing evidence, showing that the Whittemore and Whitmore families had a common origin, is added the following from Burke's "Landed Gentry":

"The Whitmores were originally seated in Whytemere, northeast side of the parish of Bobbington, in Manor of Claverley, in Shropshire, and, at a later day, they moved to Claverley.

John, Lord of Whytemere, in times of Henry III., (1216 A. D.,) and Edward I., (A. D. 1272,) was father of Philip de Whytemere, who died in 1300, was succeeded by his son, John de Whytemere —— was living in 1361. He was succeeded by his son, Richard de Whytemere, of Claverley & Whytemere, who married Margaret, daughter of William Attetrall, of Claverley; he left a son Richard, who married Joan——— and died in 1442.

Joan and Richard left a son, Thomas Whytemere, of Claverley, who died in 1483.

Thomas left a son, Richard, who married Agnes ——— and died in 1504. His wife died in 1522.

He left son, Richard Whitmore, of Claverley, born in 1495, married Frances Baker, and had two sons, William, the heir, and Thomas, the ancestor of Whitmores, of Ludstone, in Claverley.

Richard died in 1549, and was succeeded by William, who married Anne, daughter of William Bond, of London, (Alderman,) and had:

William, (the heir,) born in 1572;
Thomas;
George; Mary;
Anne; Jane;
Margaret, 9 in all.

William died in 1593, and was succeeded by Sir William Whitmore, of London, born in 1572.

John, Lord of Whytemere,	A. D.,	1216.
Philip de Whytemere,	"	1272.
John de Whytemere,	"	1361.
Richard de Whytemere,	"	1442.
Thomas Whytemere,	"	1483.
Richard Whytemere,	"	1504.
Richard Whitmore,	"	1549.
William Whitmore,	"	1593.
Sir William Whitmore,	"	1600 to 1650.

From the above it appears, that the name was spelt with three syllables by all his ancestors, including his father, until Richard, A. D., 1549, who eliminated the middle syllable, and spelt his name Whitmore. By reference to p. 47, ante, it will be seen, that the above-named Sir William Whitmore signed his name as magistrate in London, April 15th, 1635, Whi*ti*mor; and shortly subsequent, (July 6, 1635,) Sir George Whitmore, Lord Mayor of London, signed his name in the same manner—Whi*ti*mor. [See Book of Entry, Rolls office, Chancery Lane, London; a large volume, bound in vellum, containing the records of some of the early emigrants to New England.] From the above facts, it is a fair inference, that the name of Whi*ti*mor was retained in common use until it was changed to Whitmore by Sir William's and Sir George's descendants, of whom are Lt. Gen. Sir Edmund Augustus Whitmore, K. C. B., and Col. Sir George Stoddart Whitmore, both of the present regular army, in England, who discard the second syllable, which their ancestors used, as stated above.

Mr. W. H. Whitmore argues, that the English word "white" is not a dissyllable. Precisely. That word was not in existence as an English word, at the time of the Conquest of England by William, the Conqueror. The English language was not in existence then, nor was it in existence till a century or more later on. [See Webster's Unabridged.] The Anglo Saxon and O. Frieslandic word HWIT, or HWITE, spelt both ways; the Dutch or Low German word WIT, or WITT, spelt both ways; the old Saxon word HUIT; and the German word WEISZ, all meaning WHITE, had been previously imported into England by its Saxon, Frieslandic, or German invaders, and out of these words as stems the two first syllables of the word Whittemore, and the first syllable of the word Whitmore, were formed. The Whitmore wing of the family formed their first syllable out of the word WIT, leaving the second T in the word spelt WITT for the use of the Whittemore wing. In his work on the "Elements of Heraldry," p. 74, Mr. Whitmore gives a FAC SIMILE of a coat of arms with the name of WITmore on it, which he calls a WHITmore coat of arms. The Whittemore wing of the family derived the second syllable of their name, in all probability, by borrowing the letter T from the word WITT and inserting it before E in the Anglo Saxon word HWITE, or by changing the letters SZ in the German word WEISZ. In German, the two letters SZ, are combined into a single character, and the letters TZ are combined into another single character.—There is a difference between these two characters, but it is very slight, and only those, who are acquainted with the German language, would notice the difference. Between the German letter Z and the English letter Y there is no perceptible difference, either in print or in writing. In common use, therefore, the letters TZ may have been converted into TY, thus making a syllable by itself. [See A. Knoflach's "German Simplified," and German dictionaries.] The introduction of the letter H in place of E, in the German word WEISZ, or of the same letter in the word WIT, or WITT, came about by reversing the letters HW, in the Anglo Saxon word HWIT or HWITE, thereby constituting the syllable WHIT or WHITE, and putting the cart ~~before~~ behind the horse, where it naturally should be.

It is remarkable, how English surnames have become changed and transmogrified by use from what they were originally. Even members of the same families have spelt their surnames differently. This has been caused, in many instances, by whim, caprice or custom. The great-great-grand-father of the present writer signed his will John Whittemor, eliminating the e from the last syllable. The late Col. Joseph Greeley, of Nashua, N. H., signed his surname invariably Greely, eliminating the letter e from the last syllable, while his brothers and other members of his f mily spelt the word Greeley. The late Spalding Boynton eliminated the letter g from the word Spalding, when signing his Christian name, and when told that he didn't know how to spell his own name, he indignantly replied, "That's the way I spell my name." In many instances undoubtedly ignorance or illiteracy has been a contributory cause to the infinite variety of spelling surnames. The surname of the Whittemore family has been spelled as many as fourteen different ways. Mr. J. C. Wetmore, in his work of 670 pages, on the Wetmore family, gives the name as spelled as follows: John, Lord of Whyttemere, John, Lord of Whytemere, Whitmore, Whytmore, Whitmar, Whitmer, Whytmor, Whittemore, Watmore, Weadmore, Whitemore, Wetmore, Wyttemere and Whytemore. The name of Lake Winnipiseogee, in New Hampshire, has been spelt in more than forty different modes. [See Norton's History of Fitzwilliam, N. H., page 28.]

One of the coats of arms adopted by English ancestors of the family shows that the surname has been spelt with three syllables. Mr. D. J. Whittemore, Chief Engineer of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul R. R., who visited England in 1889, has recently procured in London drawings of two coats of arms, of which his son, Eugene Whittemore, has made photographs. One of them, which is named: "Arms and crests of the Whit-e-mores," (the surname being in three syllables,) being those of both the Salop or Shropshire and London families, contains two crests, one on the right and the other on the left of the shield. The one on the right is thus described in the language of heraldry: "An arm erect couped at the elbow, verted, or., turned up, az., in the hand; ppr., a cinquefoit, gold leaved, vert; all within two wings expanded of the fourth." The other crest, which is on the left corner of the shield, is thus described in the language of heraldry: "A falcon sejant on the stump of a tree with a branch springing from dexter side, (all ppr)." This seems to have been the coat of arms of the Whit-e-mores of Shropshire and London combined, as we have above stated. The other drawing, photographed as above stated by Mr. Eugene Whittemore, is designated as that of "Whitmore of Thurstanston," which is located in the extreme northwestern part of the county of Cheshire, the last named county joining the county of Shropshire or Salop, on the north. [See "Bradley's Atlas of the World, 1886."] In his history of Cheshire, Ormerod thus describes this coat of arms: "Arms, from a monument of white marble in the church of Hazelwall, quarterly: 1st vert, fretty or., Whitmore; 2d argent, a chief azure, Hazelwall; 3d or., a lion rampant gules, between three martlets of the second; 4th party perfesse vert and gules, an eagle displayed br. CREST. A lion's head couped at the shoulder. Argent, bound round the neck with a ribband azure. Note. The 1st and 2d coats have been used indiscriminately as the coat of Whitmore, with a motto, 'Either for ever.' The 3d and 4th coats refer to Caelia, wife of John Whitmore, and her grandmother Margaret, whose family name is unknown, but it is evident that the said Caelia used, also, the coat of her ancestress, Eustachia Vernon, the fesse of which appeared on her husband's monument in Trinity Church," (Chester, in Cheshire county, England.) The only other coat of arms that we have found is that of the Witmore family, which Mr. W. H. Whitmore claims as a Whitmore coat of arms, as above stated, and is described in heraldic language, as follows: "Out of a ducal coronet, a cock's head."

Undoubtedly, the motto of the coat of arms of the Whitmores of Cheshire county, England, "Either for ever," would apply to both orthographies of the surname among the English ancestry of the family, whether the spelling be with two or three syllables.

ANOTHER VIEW.

Mr. Joel Whittemore, of New York, who prepared the genealogies of the History of Fitzwilliam, N. H., including that of the Whittemore family of that town, takes, in some respects, a different view of the origin of the two families. Since the foregoing on the WHITTEMORES—WHITMORES was put in type, his opinion has been received, and is as follows:

"On the Whitmore and Whittemore question I have really only my own opinion to give, which is, that the families are DISTINCT, that is, I think that if the ancestry of both families could be traced back to the time, when surnames were first used, they would NOT come together on a common ancestor.

Yet I think it very probable, that both names have a common derivation, but that by no means proves, that the families had a common origin. The same circumstances that caused one family to take a certain surname in one part of the country, if they should occur in the other end of the country, might give the same surname again; as witness the many surnames representing occupations, or personal qualities.

I know that the names are very apt to get mixed up. This is shown in the early records of Fitzwilliam. You find both families noticed in the History of that town. [See pages 769 and 772.] In the early records the names are spelled either way, without any regard to family, but in a short time the spelling of the Whittemores becomes uniform, but that of the Whitmores is spelled both ways as long as they remained in town, and occasionally a sprout of one family assumes the other spelling. Josiah, (No. 6 Fitz. Hist.,) always wrote his name Whittemore, and so do all his descendants, except the descendants of Otis7, (No. 15.) This Otis went to New Brunswick; married and died there; had 2d. and 1s. Otis8. I do not know, whether 15 Otis7 continued to write his name Whittemore, or how his son Otis8 wrote it, but the children of Otis8 write it Whitmore. I think the neighbors wrote it Whitmore, and the family accepted it after a while. * * * * * * *

Yours, truly,

JOEL WHITTEMORE."

At the present time, in England, those of the family, who spell their surname with three syllables, are not so numerous as those, who spell it with two syllables. In this country, the former are more numerous than the latter. Mr. W. L. Whittemore, of Lyndeborough, N. H,, formerly an eminent school teacher at Milford, N. H., and in Boston, who visited England, a few years ago, found no Whittemores at Hitchin, and, as far as he could judge, there were only a few in any part of England. "The Whitmores are much more numerous." [See page 47, ante.] In all probability, the ancestors of many of the latter spelt their surname with three syllables. Mr. D. J. Whittemore, who visited England in 1889, as we have before stated, writes us: "In the London Directory I found the names of 40 Whitmores, but no Whittemores. I understand, that there are two Whittemores in England, viz.: Warlach Whittemore, Bobbington, England, and Rev. Wm. Meynell Whittemore, Stanley Roads, Sutton, England." Subsequently, Mr. D. J. Whittemore received a letter from the last named gentleman, which is as follows:

"To Mr. D. J. Whittemore:

From the Rev. W. M. Whittemore, D. D., Rector of St. Katharine Church. London, Sutton, Surrey, Feb'y 3, 1890.

My Dear Sir:—There are Whittemores in this country besides my own family. One was married years ago in Liverpool: a policeman's name in the newspapers was similarly spelt: a man was charged at Luton, (Lincoln county,) of the same name, —— none of them are in any way connected with me. My father, who was much interested in genealogical research, made many inquiries, but could learn nothing, except that his ancestors lived in Bedfordshire, (which adjoins Hertfordshire on the northwest.) He met with a Whittemore in Islington, (one of the suburbs of London,) but could trace no relationship. * * * * Most of the Whittemores belonging to our family emigrated to America fifty years ago and have descendants there. I wish I had more information to give you. There are many Whitmores in this country, and a place called Whitmore in Shropshire. These are supposed to have spelt their names as we do. I am

Yours, faithfully,

W. M. WHITTEMORE."

Rev. Dr. Whittemore, the writer of the above letter, has written and published several works of a religious character, which are published by George Stoneman, 67, Paternoster Row, London.

WHITTEMORES IN THE REVOLUTION.

The following records are from the Massachusetts Revolutionary Rolls, at the State House, in Boston:

(1) JOSEPH, 2 days' service as private, 45 miles travel; on roll of Capt. Samuel Epes' company, which marched from Danvers, Mass., on the 19th of April, 1775.

(2) JOSEPH, 2 days' service as private, on roll of Capt. Wm. Greenleaf's company, probably from Lancaster, in August of the year 1778.

(3) JAMES, 1ST Lieut. Worcester Regiment, April 28, 1778. [See page 20, ante.]

(4) JOSEPH, 1st Lieut. in Capt. Norwell's company, of Newburyport, at Plumb Island, from July 9th, to Nov. 19, 1776, (4 months and 12 days of service.)

(5) JOSEPH, of Newburyport, 1st Lieut. (age 33,) in Capt. Benja. Perkins' company in army at Cambridge, 8 months' service from May 9, 1775. (His name is not found on the list of officers of said company in 1776.)

(6) JOSEPH, 2d Lieut., June 29, 1776, of Capt. Edward Wigglesworth's company of "Matrosses," (artillery men,) at Newburyport.

The only other Whittemore names on Continental Army Rolls, at the Secretary of State's office, in Boston, being for the years 1777, 1778, 1779, 1780, which include all there are at that office, are: ASA, from Salem, in 11th Regiment, 46 months; in 1779, commanded by Col. Benjamin Tupper: his company was in the advance, when the gallant Wayne stormed Stony Point; CUFF, a negro and minute man, April 19th, 1775, of Cambridge; another of the same name, perhaps the same one, from Dartmouth, Mass., in 4th Regiment, 44 months, 16 days; PAUL, from Spencer, Mass., in 4th Regt., 48 months; and NATHANIEL, from Leicester, Mass., 19 months, 19 days. After the war, both Paul and Nathaniel went to Peterborough, N. H. Subsequently, Paul went to "the Black River country," Herkimer county, N. Y. [See ante, pp. 13, 14.]

The foregoing are the only Whittemores, bearing the name of Joseph, on the Revolutionary Rolls, at the office of Secretary of State, at Boston. The only other Revolutionary Rolls, beside those at Boston, are at the office of the Secretary of State at Washington. There is no record of any Joseph Whittemore at that office or in the Pension office.—Neither are there any Rolls of Salem Revolutionary Soldiers in the City Clerk's office, in that city, nor in the Collections of the Massachusetts Historical Society.

All these Josephs on the Rolls at Boston can be accounted for, and are given in the above list. Joseph (1) was son of Joseph (9), page 26th of this pamphlet; Joseph (2) belonged in Lancaster and was in the 4th Mass. Regiment; Joseph (4) and (5) were, probably, identical, and were the same, undoubtedly, as Joseph (15), p. 27, who, subsequently, became a Colonel and died in 1821, at Newburyport; Joseph (6), also of Newburyport, whoever he may have been, was in the Artillery, and could not have been in Col.. Little's 12th Regiment of Foot.

There was another Joseph, however, whose name does not appear on the Rolls. His name is given in the Ipswich Antiquarian Papers. He was one of the privates in Capt. Gideon Parker's Co., 11th Mass. Regiment of Foot, commanded by Col. Moses Little, of Salem, for the month of December, 1776. This Joseph is apparently the same Joseph, recorded in the Charlestown Records as "b. Sept. 11, 1735, son of Joseph and Sarah, 12th Mass. Regiment, wounded in the thigh, in 1780." [See p. 27, of this pamphlet. The foregoing from the Revolutionary Rolls has been received since the lineage of Edmund and Joseph, p. 51, was put in type.] The year 1735 given as the year of his birth is, probably, a mistake in the records at Charlestown. He was, probably, born later, and was, we have no doubt, son of Joseph, born in 1726, at Rumney Marsh, a brother of Edmund, both sons of Joseph, son of Daniel (3,) (page 9.) The father, Joseph, (born in 1726,) had for his second wife Sarah or Sarah Ann Beckett. His son Joseph was by his first wife, whose Christian name was undoubtedly NOT Sarah, and this would sustain the doubt expressed by Wyman, in his Genealogies, who puts an interrogation point after the name, thus: "Sarah (?)"—to indicate his disbelief, that Sarah was Joseph's mother's Christian name. At first, the Continental Congress called for eight months' men. Their terms having expired, reenlistments took place, and, in all probability, Joseph of the 11th Regiment went into the 12th Regiment and was promoted to a Lieutenancy, Col. Moses Little, of Salem, who was, also, for a time, commander of the 11th and 17th Regiments. The 12th Regiment was commanded by Col. Ebenezer Sprout, in 1780; he had previously been Major and Lieutenant Colonel. That Regiment was in Rhode Island, after the British evacuated Boston, at White Plains, Trenton, Princeton and other memorable fields.

The balance of the evidence, facts and probabilities would indicate the foregoing to be a reasonable and true solution of the question.

NEW HAMPSHIRE REVOLUTIONARY ROLLS.

Below are the names of Whittemores on the New Hampshire Revolutionary Rolls:

(1) Pelatiah, of New Ipswich, sergeant in Capt. Ezra Towne's Company, Col. James Reed's Regiment, Aug., 1775; appointed second Lieutenant in Capt. James Carr's Company, May 8, 1777; subsequently promoted to 1st Lieutenant, in Col. George Reid's Regiment.

(2) Samuel, marched from New Ipswich before daylight, morning of April 20, 1775, on the alarm of the battle at Concord; in 1776, private in Capt. Enoch Hale's Company, under Major General Gates, at Ticonderoga.

(3) Benjamin, of Nottingham West, now Hudson, private in Col. Daniel Moore's Regiment, Dec. 19, 1776.

(4) Amos, private in Samuel McConnell's Company, 1776. "These may certify that Amos Whittemore belonged to the Company, that I had the honor to command in the reinforcement to the State of New York, in September last, and he, when upon duty in an engagement with the enemy, (at White Plains,) lost his gun, which, according to the best of my knowledge, was worth three pounds.

North Castle, Nov. 30th, 1776.

SAM'L McCONNEL, Capt.

LYNDEBOROUGH, March 11, 1777. To the Honorable Court of the State of New Hampshire; this may certify, that the above said gun was prized at three pounds by two indifferent men.

JAMES BOUTELL,
JOSEPH HERRICK,
BENJA. JONES, } Comm. of Safety for said town."

That part of the town of Lyndeborough, where Major Amos Whittemore then resided, with parts of other towns, was incorporated as the town of Greenfield, in 1791.

(5) Aaron, of Lyndeborough, private in Capt. Peter Clark's Company, in Col. Stickney's Regiment and Gen. Stark's Brigade, of New Hampshire militia, which Company marched from Lyndeborough, July 1777, and fought at the battle of Bennington.

(6) Jacob, of Litchfield, private in Capt. William Walker's Company, in Col. David Gilman's Regiment, raised by the State of New Hampshire to reinforce the Continental Army in New York, from 5th December to 15th of May following.

(7) Joshua, private in Capt. William Humphrey's Company, Aug., 1776.

(8) James, of Haverhill, a private in 1780; term of enlistment not specified; engaged and paid by parish of Concord.

(9) Peter, of Pembroke, private, mustered in, at West Point, in 1781.

(10) Zebadiah, (Zebedee,) of New Ipswich, private in Capt. Josiah Brown's Company, in Col. Enoch Hale's Regiment, which marched from New Ipswich, June 29th, 1777, to reinforce the garrison at Ticonderoga, and proceeded as far as Charlestown, No. 4, where they were ordered back by an express from Col. Bellows, and returned to Rindge, July 3d. On the 4th, they received orders again to march forward, and went to Rutland, Vt., where they met our army on the retreat; 30 of the Company had horses.

The lineages of nearly all the above on the New Hampshire Rolls can be given. Pelatiah and Zebadiah, (Zebedee,) were sons of Pelatiah, of Dunstable, subsequently of New Ipswich, son of John (3); Pelatiah was born at Malden, March 3, 1739; Zebadiah, (Zebedee,) at Dunstable, in 1752. Samuel (2) was born at New Ipswich, in 1757. The father of Samuel went to New Ipswich before 1760. Benjamin (3.) son of Benjamin, son of Benjamin, son of John (3); was born at Nottingham West, now Hudson, March 6, 1752; Amos (4.) older brother of Benjamin (3) was born at Chelsea, Mass., Feb. 9, 1747; (see page 63.) Aaron (5.) son of ~~David~~ (4,) of Lyndeborough, born in 1755; (see page 77.) Jacob (6.) son of David, of Litchfield, born Dec. 25, 1748. Peter (9.) son of Rev. Aaron, of Pembroke.

MISCELLANEOUS.

(1.) The first Boston Directory, printed in 1789, contains the name of Joseph Whittemore, cooper, residing on Purchase street. The second Boston Directory, printed in 1796, contains the names of the above-named Joseph, William Whittemore, card maker, No. 8 Dock Square, house Middlesex street, Amos Whittemore, card maker, Hanover street, Joseph Whittemore, laborer, Lyman's Wharf; Joseph Whittemore, baker, Salem street and Thomas Whittemore, house on Hull street. The names of Joseph, Amos and Jacob Whittemore were found in Boston in 1790.

(2.) Samuel Whittemore was private in 3d Co., Capt. Christopher Marshall, Third Massachusetts Regiment, Col. Jeremiah Moulton, a Louisburg soldier. Joel Whittemore, Lieutenant, appointed by Gov. Warton, of Rhode Island, July 29th, 1744, and did duty in Gen. William Pepperell's First Mass. Regiment at Louisburg, Capt. Peter Staples, 1st Co. of Artillery. Taken at Fort William Henry, Aug. 1757, Lyn Jock, a negro of Nathaniel Whittemore. Jonathan Whittemore was committed as a prisoner of war, in May, 1777, to Old Mill Prison, which was situated on a promontory projecting into the Sound, between Plymouth and Plymouth Dock, two considerable towns in England. When captured, May 16th, 1777, he was aboard sloop Charming Polly. Exchanged.

(3.) A Fatal Mistake. Denver, Sept. 22, 1886. At Whittemore ranch, early yesterday morning, H. B. Whittemore fatally shot his wife, mistaking her for a burglar. He had some money in the house, with which to pay bills. This made him nervous, and when, on waking up, in the darkness, he saw a form moving about the room, he fired at it with mortal effect. He did not discover his mistake, until he grappled with the supposed burglar, and found it was his wife, who had got up to procure some heavier clothing. No arrest was made.—[Colorado Paper.

(4.) Among the wounded, on that memorable day, (April 19, 1775.) was Capt. Samuel Whittemore, of Charlestown, where he was born July 27, 1696, but early removed to Cambridge. His estate bordered on Menotomy River and his house stood on the northerly side of Main street, near the magnificent elms which are still preserved. He was now nearly seventy-nine years of age, but yet vigorous in body and mind. In spite of the expostulations of his family, he repaired to the post of danger. His exploits and sufferings have often been related,—possibly with some embellishments in late years. He died Feb. 2, 1793, aged 96 years and six months. His age is overstated in the obituary as 99 years, and on his gravestone as 98 years, as is manifest from the record of his birth. At the date of the conflict he was not 81, but lacked three months of 79 years. His obituary was published in the "Columbian Centinel" of Feb. 6. (1793,) which I quote rather than more recent publications for obvious reasons: "Died at Menotomy, the 2d instant, Capt. Samuel Whittemore, aet. 99. (96. 6mos.) The manly and moral virtues, in all the varied relations of brother, husband, father, and friend, were invariably exhibited in this gentleman. He was not more remarkable for his longevity and his numerous descendants, (his progeny being 185, one of which is the fifth generation,) than far his patriotism. When the British troops marched to Lexington, he was 81, (79,) years of age, and one of the first on the parade; he was armed with a gun and horse pistol. After an animated exhortation to the collected militia to the exercise of bravery, and courage, he exclaimed, 'If I can only be the instrument of killing one of my country's foes, I shall die in peace.' The prayer of this venerable old man was heard; for, on the return of the troops, he lay behind a stone wall, and discharging his gun a soldier immediately fell; he then discharged his pistol, and killed another; at which instant a bullet struck his face, and shot away part of his cheek bone; on which a number of the soldiers ran up to the wall, and gorged their malice on his wounded head. They were heard to exclaim, 'We have killed the old rebel.' About four hours after, he was found in a mangled situation; his head was covered with blood from the wounds of the bayonets, which were six or eight; but providentially none penetrated so far as to destroy him. His hat and clothes were shot through in many places, yet he survived to see the complete overthrow of his enemies, and his country enjoy all the blessings of peace and independence."—Paige's History of Cambridge, pp. 414–15.

(5.) Elisha Whittemore, born in Rochester, N. H., represented New York in the 19th Congress, (from 1825 to 1827.)

(6.) Benjamin F. Whittemore was born in Malden, Mass., in 1824; received an academic education; during his youth was employed in a manufacturing establishment belonging to his father; on becoming of age travelled extensively in Europe and South America, as well as in California; subsequently became a minister in the Methodist Church; served as a chaplain in the army during the war between the States; after the war settled in South Carolina; and identified himself with the educational interests of the State; was chairman of the Republican State Committee; was a Delegate to the new State "Constitutional Convention" of 1867; was the founder and editor of the New Era, published at Darlington, South Carolina; was a member of the State Senate; was elected a Representative from South Carolina to the Fortieth Congress, serving on the Committee on Education and Labor; and was re-elected to the Forty-First Congress, serving on the Committee on Reconstruction.

ERRATA, WITH ADDITIONS.

Page 8.—3d line from top, instead of "Feb. 8, 1660," read Feb. 8, 1661.

" 11.—8th line from top; "Abigail Reed, daughter of Geo. Reed, of Woburn." Genealogists disagree. The Reed Genealogy and Wyman's "Genealogies and Estates of Charlestown" have it as it is on page 11; the Richardson Genealogy says, Abigail was a dau. of Israel Reed, b. Jan'y 2, 1679.

" 11.—17th line from top, after "1768," insert Rebekah, b. 1725.

" 13.—17th line from the bottom of the page: the signature to the will should be John Whittemor, inserting another t and leaving off the last e. [A mistake of the clerk in transcribing from the will in the Probate office at Worcester, Mass.]

" 17.—After "Lucretia Glover, of Dorchester, Mass.," 22d line from the bottom, insert the following: In the marriage of John Whittemore and Lucretia Glover, the eighth generation of two families was represented, who came over to this country from England, more than two hundred years previous, and settled within a few miles of each other, the one at Charlestown and the other at Dorchester, Mass. Accordingly, it is fitting to insert here the lineage of the

which is as follows: (a) John Glover, a native of Lancaster county, England; he embarked for this country at Bristol, in 1629, in the ship Mary and John. He settled at Dorchester, in 1630. He was a captain, representative in 1637–50, and nearly all the same years a selectman; removed to Boston: was assistant in 1652–3, and died early in 1653. By his will, it appears, that he had given, a year before, his dwelling-house with land adjoining, at Rainhill, Lancaster, England, to his son, Thomas and wife Rebecca, and mentioned as legatees his own wife, Ann, and sons Habakuk, Nathaniel, John and Pelatiah, the two last of whom were born in this country. He left no daughter. (b) Nathaniel, Dorchester, son of preceding John and Ann, born in England; married Mary, (the child brought from Warrington, Lancashire, England, in a pannier, to embark at Bristol, as told by a creditable tradition,) daughter of John Smith, commonly known as Quartermaster, because he had Page 17.— served in the Netherlands in that capacity. His widow married, 15 March, 1660, Thos. Hinckley, afterwards Governor of Plymouth. [See Savage's New England Genealogies.] (c.) Nathaniel, son of preceding Nathaniel and Mary, Dorchester; freeman 1678; was captain; married Hannah, daughter of Thomas Hinckley, Governor of Plymouth Colony, by a marriage previous to that of the mother of the said Nathaniel, as stated above. Gov. Hinckley died Aug. 20, 1730. (d.) Nathaniel, son of preceding Nathaniel and Hannah, born Nov. 10, 1676; married Rachel Marsh, of Braintree, Nov. 13, 1701; he died March 7, 1770; she died April 10, 1752. (e.) Alexander, son of the preceding Nathaniel and Rachel; born Nov. 13, 1710; married Sarah White, Feb. 1st, 1732; he died March 15, 1770. (f.) Alexander, son of preceding Alexander and Sarah, born Feb. 1, 1740; married Hannah ———; he died July 7, 1813; she died —, 1825, ae. 81. (g) Oliver, son of preceding Alexander and Hannah; born June 14, 1777; married Lydia ———; their children were: (1) Oliver; (2) Elizabeth L., b. April 11, 1801; (3) Mary Lee, b. Aug. 23, 1803; (4) Thomas, b. July 5, 1805; (5) George, b. May 21, 1808; (6) Rebecca, b. Aug. 18, 1810, d. Nov. 4, 1810; (7) Lucretia, b. Dec. 18, 1813, m. John Whittemore, then of Peterborough, N. H., now of Rome, N. Y.; [see ante, page 17;] (8) Aaron, b. Aug. 18, 1817.

" 17.—20th line from the bottom, after "Bay City, Mich.;" insert (g) Joseph, died at the age of 8 years; death caused by accident.

" 17.—18th line from bottom, after "Dec. 1860," read: she d. at Brooklyn, N. Y., July 22d, 1890, ae. 73.

" 17.—15th line from bottom, read Welcome, instead of "Wilson;" also, after "b. April 3, 1818," read: died at Cochituate, Mass., Jan. 21, 1883.

" 18.—7th line from top of the page, instead of "1842," read: 1841.

" 18.—8th line from top of page, after "1875," read: Mrs. Hunt died at Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 11, 1889, funeral at Cambridge, Jan. 13, 1889, Rev. Dr. J. H. Morison, of Boston, officiating; interment in Nashua Cemetery, Jan. 14, 1889.

" 18.—21st line from top, instead of "Nashua," read: San Miguel, California.

" 18.—18th line from bottom, instead of "resides in Nashua," read: died in Nashua, July 9, 1882, ae. 90; interred in Nashua Cemetery.

" 19.—19th line from top, after "b. March 9, 1818," read: died at Lewiston, Me., Sept. 7th, 1886; funeral at Boston, Sept. 9th following; interment at Mount Auburn, Cambridge, Mass.

" 21.—1st line from top, after Susan A. Joslyn, insert: died, at Florence, Italy, March —, 1880.

" 24.—19th line from top, before "Thomas," insert: John b. about 1662, bapt. April 16, 1671; and in the same line, instead of "1660," read: 1667.

" 26.—14th line from top, after "Joseph C.," read: son of John (1.)

" 30.—Harriet, 12th ch. of Amos, (12) widow of Herman Foster, Esq., resides at Manchester, N. H.

" 31.—15th line from top, after "1814," read: died at Cambridgeport, Mass., July 19, 1882, ae. 68.

" 37.—Under "Templeton, Mass.," instead of "Whittemores," read: Whitmores.

Page 37.—Under New Ipswich, Samuel, son of Samuel, son of Samuel, (4) and Margaret, son of Samuel (2,) son of Samuel (1), son of Thomas (1.)

" 39.—At the bottom of "Lynn, Mass.," add Joseph, bapt., Nov. 22, 1722.

" 44.—Under "Rumney, Marsh,"21st line from top, before "1728," insert: 1725, Feb. 19, born Ruth; and 1726, Nov. 19, born Joseph. At the end of the "Rumney Marsh" record, add: Marriages, John and Rebekah; John and Elizabeth; Daniel and Mary; Benjamin and Sarah; Jeremiah, bap. at the Old Church (Settlement No. 13.) Aug. 10, 1723; parents' names not given; they took up their connection with the Society, Dec. 25, 1727, and removed to West Town, (Weston,) Mass. [The parents were undoubtedly Jeremiah and Patience; see page 33.]

" 46.—"Lunenburg, Mass." The line of descent of "Josiah" is: Thomas (1); John (2); John (3); John (4]; John (5); Josiah (6); William, S. John and Salmon (7); the Whittemores of Fitzwilliam, N. H., being descended from the three last. [See genealogy of the Whittemore family of that town in the History of Fitzwilliam, pp. 777–783.]

" 51.—"Edmund and Joseph, of Salem, Mass." Pelatiah Whittemore was guardian of Edmund and David Whittemore, subsequently of Litchfield, N. H., was guardian of Joseph. David was appointed June 13, 1738, Joseph, the father, having died in 1736. In the guardian bond given by David, it is stated that he is appointed guardian of "Joseph, son of Joseph Whittemore, aged about 13 years." [See Suffolk County Probate Records, No. 7,158.]

" 56.—For "Frensen," read Funsen, 10th line from bottom.

" 58.—Rev. Aaron Whittemore was on the muster roll, as 1st Lieutenant, in the Company in His Majesty's service, under command of Moses Foster, Captain, from May 8 to Oct. 2, 1752, doing scout and garrison duty at Pembroke, during the Indian war. The garrison was near the meeting-house, which was situated near the house now owned by Hon. Aaron Whittemore, of Pembroke.

" 62.—Ruth Basset, widow of John (3) was administratrix of his estate; she rendered her account of administration, June 12, 1732, Joseph, the third son of John (3) being then present. [See Middlesex County Probate Records.]

" 93.—Asa's name is, also, returned on the New Hampshire Revolutionary Rolls on the sick list of Col. Poor's Regiment from January 1st, to July 1st, 1776.

On the Charlestown records are the following entries, which do not seem to be otherwise connected: (a) Mary, m. Jona. C. Prentice, in 1812; (b) Hannah, m. James Nichols, 1686; (c) Helen, dau. of Amos, Jr., m. Joseph Tufts, in 1827; (d) Joseph, published to Eunice Bates, Sept. 6, 1812; (e) Mary, of Salem, m. Isaac Aborn, 1723.
